

Women's Clubs Meet In Rally

Public Speaking Contest and Recreation Are Features of The Program

The annual rally of home demonstration clubs was held at Columbiana High School on June 24. Registration opened at 9:30 and the public speaking contest was held at 10. Mrs. J. C. Rogers, County Recreation Chairman, presided over the morning program. Speakers for the morning included Margaret Evans, Camp Branch Club; Cavelle Davis, Ebenezer Club; Mrs. P. M. Russell, Spring Creek Club; Mrs. Neal Crumpton, Wright Club; Mrs. Earnest Wyatt, Klein Club; and Mrs. Gordon Cross, New Hope Club.

Mrs. Earnest Wyatt was the winner of this contest and will go to the district contest at Auburn in July. Other features of the morning program were a song by Mrs. Barret Archer, Wright Club; a reading by Orrell Dennis, New Hope Club; and a stunt by Ebenezer Club. Mrs. Rogers, recreation chairman, conducted the entire group in games following the regular program. The guests for the morning included Mr. Appleton, County Superintendent of Education, and Miss Mildred Meroney, vocational home economics teacher at Columbiana High School.

Following a picnic lunch, Mrs. Frank Wyatt, president of the County Council, conducted a council meeting. The following chairmen gave reports of the year's work: Mrs. Fred Hillman, scholarship chairman; Mrs. H. G. Dennis, citizenship chairman; Mrs. J. W. Cohron, farm bureau chairman; Mrs. J. C. Rogers, recreation chairman. Following these reports the nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Gordon Cross, New Hope Club, Mrs. Will Finley, Shelby Club, and Mrs. Ruby Stone, Fourmile Club, reported their recommendations for officers for the year 1938-39. The following officers were elected to serve on the County Council for the coming year: President, Mrs. Frank Wyatt, Klein Club; Vice President, Mrs. J. Frank Baker, Dargin Club; Secretary, Mrs. Walter Chancellor, Klein Club; Treasurer, Mrs. L. C. Baker, Wright Club; Scholarship Chairman, Mrs. Fred Hillman, Camp Branch Club; Citizenship Chairman, Mrs. H. G. Dennis, New Hope Club; Farm Bureau Chairman, Mrs. J. W. Cohron, Midway Club; and Recreation Chairman, Mrs. J. C. Rogers, Ebenezer Club. A short recreation period followed during which Mrs. Dewey Clark, Klein Club, sang, "A Song Of The Open Country." Leadership certificates were awarded by home agent to leaders who had satisfactorily completed the year's work.

RED MEN HAVE ORGANIZED IN MONTEVALLO

The charter of Wauhoma Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, has been transferred from Coaleanor to Montevallo by the Great Council of Alabama.

A complete reorganization plan has been effected, with new officers elected for the next six months. Regular meetings are held at the Legion Hut on the first and third Friday nights in each month.

Many former members of the order in this territory have reinstated, and others have transferred their membership from other tribes.

For the next thirty days a special membership drive will be made, both for reinstatements and for new members.

The Scout Troop Committee of the Boy Scouts in Montevallo met last Thursday night, and perfected organization plans for proceeding toward the erection of a Scout cabin near the Big Spring.

Dr. A. W. Vaughan and Mr. T. E. Watson were named as a committee to handle the matter of securing a site.

Mr. P. D. Pendleton and Mr. C. G. Dobbins were named as the committee on building plans. They also will have charge of directing the work of construction, securing material, etc., after the plans have been finally settled upon.

The Boy Scouts express high enthusiasm at the prospects of having a cabin of their own. They plan to do a good portion of the building themselves.

4-H Club Camp Held At Blue Creek

The annual 4-H camp for boys and girls was held at Blue Creek, near Clanton, on June 21-25. Mr. W. M. Clark, Boys' Club Agent, cooperated with the home agent in planning and conducting this camp. School busses picked up the boys and girls at central points over the county. Camp activities included swimming, boating, ping pong, hiking, folk dancing, stunt night, etc. A special feature of the program was a boat trip to Mitchell Dam where employees of the dam took the boys and girls through, explaining how electricity is generated. The boat trip was by courtesy of Mr. Hollis, superintendent of the dam. About 50 boys and girls attended this camp. Miss Elizabeth Weldon, local leader for Wilsonville 4-H Club, assisted the home agent with the girls.

CIVIC CLUB

The regular meeting of Montevallo Civic Club was held at noon Wednesday, with President John R. Lewis, presiding.

Mr. Jeter, member of the County Board of Education, reported that the board is now ready to let the contract for building a new Negro school. The only thing lacking now, he said, is a suitable site for the building.

Further explanation of the plans of the county board by Mr. Jeter revealed that the program under consideration is for the erection of a building in the vicinity of Montevallo which will serve as a consolidated Negro school for Montevallo, Wilton, Aldrich, and Dogwood communities.

Several possible sites were discussed. President Lewis appointed the following committee of the club to consider and recommend plans whereby the white people of Montevallo could assist the Negroes in securing a site for the proposed school: R. A. Reid, chairman; M. P. Jeter, Pete Givhan, Dr. J. Alex Moore, Dr. J. I. Riddle.

The board plans, Mr. Jeter stated, called for a three-room school building. This will not be adequate, he said, and he further expressed the hope that the people of the communities concerned, both white and colored, could find some co-operative way of raising enough additional money to provide a fourth room for the new building. The appropriation by the board as now made is said to be about $4,800.

DR. LACEY INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Dr. Floyd W. Lacey, dentist, of Montevallo, has been in a hospital in Birmingham since last Thursday night, suffering serious internal injuries which he sustained in the wreck of his automobile. For several days little hope was held for his recovery, but at this writing it is understood that his condition is somewhat improved.

The accident happened last Thursday night as Dr. and Mrs. Lacey were returning home from a visit to Birmingham. As the car came up the mountain the lights went out, and the machine left the road, going down an embankment. Mrs. Lacey suffered severe shock but only minor physical injuries.

Dean Higgins Will Lecture At College

Ethereal shapes and ghostly slate writing which seem to reveal a dynamic connection with the spirit world will be exposed in the demonstration-lecture which Dean Howard Higgins, of Emerson College, Boston, will give Monday, July 11, in Palmer Auditorium.

The lecture is made up of two parts. The first is a composite seance made up of the best features of leading mediums, in which will be demonstrated spirit forces, spirit vision, writing by an invisible hand, and the materialization of a spirit while the medium is securely bound by members of the audience. The second part consists of the expose by pictures and demonstrations of alleged psychic phenomena.

Dean Higgins is head of the Division of Psychology and Education at Emerson College, and has been an intensive investigator of mediumship for a number of years. His effectiveness as an investigator has been greatly increased by his study of magic and charlatan methods.

The lecture will be given in Palmer Auditorium, Monday, July 11, at 8 p.m. Admission is 25 cents for adults, and 15c for Demonstration School students.

Charlie V. Brown Died Last Sunday

Prominent Citizen and Business Man Passed Away After Short Illness

Mr. Charlie V. Brown, age 68 years, prominent business man, and beloved citizen of Montevallo, died at his home here last Sunday, after an illness of short duration. Funeral services were conducted at the home Monday morning by Rev. F. B. Pearson. Burial was at Union Church, Bibb County, near Ashby, with Rogan in charge.

Pallbearers were his nephews, Hansel, Wyman, Dalton, J. A., Jr., and James Brown, and Jimmie Higgins. The last resting place of the deceased is beside his father and mother in the old home graveyard.

Charley Brown was the son of James Allen Brown (died 1888) and Emma Barnes Brown (died 1936). He is survived by four brothers, W. L. Brown, Montevallo; Ed M. Brown, Randolph; L. N. Brown, Sylacauga; J. A. Brown, Montevallo; one sister, Mrs. C. E. Houlditch, Montevallo.

Mr. Brown was never married. He was 17 years old when his father died, whereupon he assumed the responsibilities of taking care of his mother and the other children. To this duty, which was entrusted to him by the last words of his father, he was faithful unto death.

It is literally true to say that Charley Brown had the love and respect of all who knew him. Typical of the esteem he enjoyed among his fellowmen is the expression of one of Montevallo's oldest citizens that "Charlie Brown was one man in Montevallo against whom I have never heard any person utter a word of unkindly feeling."

ALABAMA PRAISED

Explaining why the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries is interested in Alabama as an ideal location for experiments in developing food and game fishes, Commissioner Frank Bell, head of the Bureau, said recently at Birmingham, "Alabama has almost limitless fishing waters most of them unpolluted and ideal for fishing purposes. Also, Alabama fishermen are awake to the need for protecting young fish until they reach legal size. The U. S. Bureau is getting complete cooperation from your state department, both from standpoint of warden protection and from standpoint of help in distributing young fish from federal hatcheries."

GRADY CARTER SEVERELY BURNED IN WRECK

Mr. Grady Carter, painter, of Montevallo, is still confined to his home suffering severely from burns sustained last Saturday night when his car turned over and caught on fire.

The car left the highway on the curve just east of the Wilton intersection at the old cotton mill site. When it turned over and caught fire Mr. Carter was pinned in the wreckage under his floor-dressing machine which was in the back of the car. Soon after the wreck he was rescued by others who were passing that way.

Baptist Church

Dr. Pearson will preach at both morning and evening services. The circles of the Missionary Society will meet at the church at 4 p.m. Monday.

The Baptist Training Union will have study courses next week, beginning Monday evening and running through Friday evening. Classes will begin at 7:30 each evening. There will be classes for Juniors, Intermediates, and Seniors.

No governor of Alabama has died in office since the present constitution was adopted in 1901. In fact, only one Alabama governor has died in office in more than sixty years and not one has resigned during that time. Only one lieutenant-governor has died during this period. The governor who died during his term was William J. Samford and the lieutenant-governor passing out before the end of his term was Thomas E. Knight, Jr.

Birmingham's Industrial Water Supply System cost $7,900,000. The impounding dam is located in Blount County eight miles south of Oneonta and is 195 feet high and eleven hundred feet long. The dam is across Blackburn Fork of the Warrior River and will impound approximately twenty-one billion gallons of water. It is conveyed to Birmingham, a distance of 31 miles, through 60 inch pipes, and has a capacity of eighty million gallons daily.

More bees are being shipped from Montgomery than from any other point in the world. During the shipping season, which begins about April 15 and lasts for six weeks or more, approximately fifty car loads of bees are shipped from the Capital City. Most of these bees are shipped to Canada, where they are ready to begin making honey upon their arrival. Because of the severe winters new colonies are imported each season by the honey producers of that section.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bailey and children spent several days last week in Birmingham.

Cotton Classing For Improvement Groups To Start This Year

Auburn, Ala.—Cotton classing for one-variety communities and other improvement groups is to be available for Alabama growers for this year's cotton crop, according to J. C. Lowery, agronomist of the Extension Service.

The service will be available to groups of producers organized to promote the improvement of cotton. It will not be available to individual farmers or to groups that do not qualify as cotton improvement organizations. The purpose of the service is to inform growers of the grade and staple length of their cotton and the extent to which their efforts are producing beneficial results.

From each bale of cotton of an improved variety ginned for a member of a qualified group, a 6-ounce sample of lint that is representative of both sides of the bale will be sent to the nearest classing office of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Each sample will be classed for grade and staple length and the grower notified of this classification.

"Organized groups," Mr. Lowery says, "must provide for the drawing and identification of the samples, and for shipping the samples to the classing office. Tags and containers will be supplied by the Bureau, and transportation charges will be paid by the government. There is no charge for the classing, but the samples classed become the property of the government."

During the rapid expansion of cotton improvement work in Alabama farmers have been unable to obtain adequate classing services by which they might measure the quality of their improved cotton that is most in demand.

FARM PEOPLE URGED TO MAKE MATTRESSES

Auburn, Ala.—Nearly everyone realizes the importance of adequate and proper sleep but few people ever stop to think that the third of their lives spent in bed determines largely how much they will get out of the other two-thirds.

With this idea in mind, Nell Pickens, home management specialist of the Alabama Extension Service, starting a campaign to encourage "the younger generation" to desire the best bed possible.

"Your bed should be the most comfortable place on earth," says Miss Pickens, "and in order to make it so you must have good springs, a good mattress, comfortable pillows, and sleep-inviting pillow cases and sheets—all of which can be made at home with the exception of the springs!"

To encourage farm people to become "mattress-conscious" a statewide mattress-making campaign will begin August 1 and continue through the remainder of the year. In preparation for the campaign, training schools for home demonstration agents have been held throughout the state. More than 50 mattresses have been made at these schools. Home demonstration agents are now organizing their counties in an effort to push to completion a program which will bring the construction of 10,000 mattresses by January 1.

A comfortable mattress can be made of home-grown cotton with a cash outlay of about two dollars, says Miss Pickens. Farm families, including 4-H boys and girls, should check on the condition of their beds, decide on the number of mattresses needed, and get in touch with their home demonstration agent for details concerning the County Mattress Campaign advises Miss Pickens.

TRENDS IN SALARY AND TRAINING OF TEACHERS

Montgomery, Ala.—The June Bulletin of the Alabama Education Association directs attention to a marked divergence between the recent trends in the professional training and in the average annual salary of white teachers in Alabama's public schools.

The Bulletin shows that since 1930 the number of teachers holding college degrees has increased from 2,613 to 5,723, an increase of 119 per cent. It also shows that during the same period, despite this marked increase in training, there has been a decided decrease in the average annual salary of teachers. While, normally, increased training would result in increased salaries the Bulletin explains that this widening gap between teachers' salaries and training has been caused for the major part by a corresponding divergence in school revenue and daily attendance or "school load." For example, as compared with the figures for 1930 The Bulletin shows that school revenue is 4 per cent below the level of that year while school attendance is 19 per cent above.

The low point in the recession of salaries, The Bulletin points out, was reached in 1933 when the average salary dropped to $590, or 37 per cent below the base of 1930. While the average salary paid teachers in 1938 has increased $224 from the low point of 1933, it is still $100, or 11 per cent, below the amount paid in 1930.

Hog Callers Getting Scarce In Alabama

Auburn, Ala.—The entertainment committee of the Alabama Extension Service is getting worried. It can't find Alabama farm women who can call their husbands in the old-fashioned way nor men and women who can still call the hogs in the stentorian voices of the days of yore.

To repeat, they are worried. They can find plenty of women who will call Darling, or Honey, "dinner's ready" in a weak sweet voice or who will send son Jim out to tell Dad that it's time for dinner. But the committee members want farm women who can step out on the back porch and let out a roaring "Hen---ry" that will bring hubby from the farthest corner of the field.

But they cannot find the women who can still do this. They are on the verge of offering a prize for one or two to be present during the Farmers and Homemakers Week at Auburn, August 1-5. They have planned a radio broadcast but can't find the husband callers of the good old days to appear on the program.

Spokesmen of the committee point out that if there are any of those old-fashioned husband callers still in Alabama they can probably win the hog calling contest too, since there seems to be also a shortage of good, easily-heard hog callers either of the male or female sex.

The entertainment committee wants to be wrong in this fear but it is really worried.

Mrs. C. N. Pipes left Saturday for Texas for a visit with relatives.

"WAR veterans know how vital are duties of the Quartermaster ('Q.M.') Corps in an army. Strangely, while an army and your electric company have little in common, each must have its 'quartermaster corps.'"

"In Alabama Power Company, members of the 'quartermaster' corps are known as storekeepers—men who see that there is always an adequate stock of repair and replacement parts available so that when Nature 'declares war' in the form of storm or flood or cyclone, the trouble shooters of my company's 'army' can hasten forth supplied with the necessary materials and equipment with which to repair the damage quickly.

"Don't get the idea, though, that the storekeepers' only part in helping keep your electric service dependable is limited to emergencies. There is natural wear and tear on electrical generating and transmission equipment. Alabama Power Company tries to keep all of its equipment in 'apple-pie' order; therefore the storekeepers always must know where the fourteen thousand different items are on hand, and how many of each are available, and be ready to supply them on short notice from any of the 82 warehouses in Alabama.

"Of course, if my company were content with supplying you with only indifferent service, instead of dependable electric service, it wouldn't have to maintain its system in such good shape, or carry so many parts in so many different places. However, as you perhaps already know, Alabama Power Company wants to supply you with the best electric service at only reasonable cost to you."

Constance Bennett, Brian Aherne Teamed In "Merrily We Live" at Strand Theatre

New Comedy Is Hailed As Laugh

Successor To "Topper"

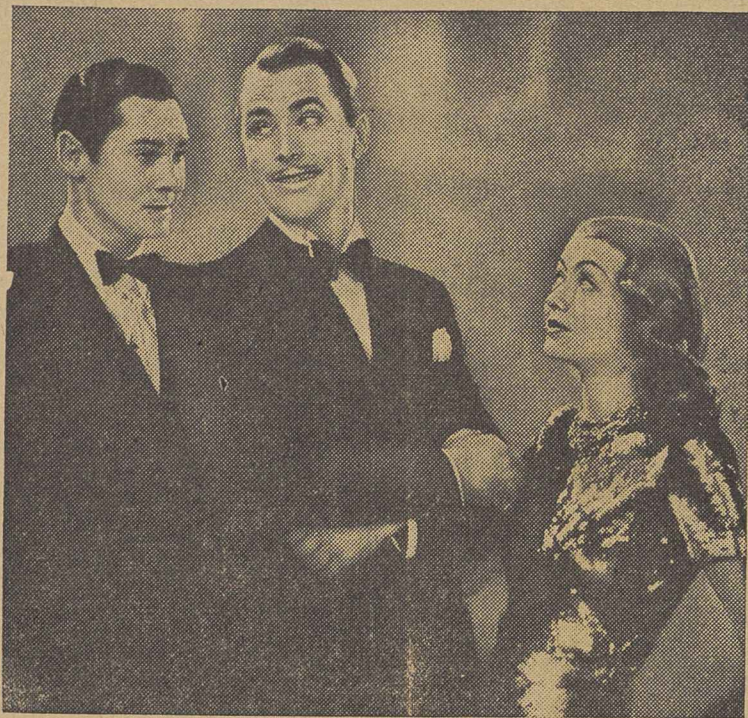

Hit

Constance Bennett, the blonde charmer of "Topper," and Brian Aherne, last seen on the screen as "The Great Garrick," are co-starred for the first time in the new Hal Roach-M-G-M production, "Merrily We Live," at the Strand Theatre Thursday and Friday. Supporting them is Hollywood's outstanding cast of the new season.

Billie Burke, who scored so successfully as the Victorian wife in "Topper," has the role of Mrs. Kilbourne, a philanthropist, whose speciality is the reformation of hoboes who call at her door. Alan Mowbray, also of "Topper" fame, again is cast as a butler, but in the current production his role gives him more scope for comedy than the previous one.

Patsy Kelly, one of the screen's foremost commediennes, romps through the role of a cook in the Kilbourne establishment. Her life is made hectic through the enthusiasms of Mrs. Kilbourne for her newly-discovered tramps and through the butler's disgust at these humanitarian endeavors.

In the role of a Senator's daughter whose predatory eye settles upon Miss Bennett's romantic interest in the film is Ann Dvorak. Bonita Granville, not entirely grown-up, but wearing her first floor length dinner gown in the picture, plays the "kid sister" in the Kilbourne family. She augments her allowance by threats of blackmail and sells petty secrets between members of the family for fancy prices.

Phillip Reed, Brian Aherne, Constance Bennett in "Merrily We Live"

Tom Brown is the "kid brother," whose growing up passes unnoticed by other members of the family. He is by turns wheedling and rebellious, but nothing he does or says upsets the family's mad pace or distracts them from their individually amusing interests.

As Henry Kilbourne, nominal head of the family, but in reality as ineffectual as his wife or any of his children, is Clarence Kolb, long a star on the stage with his partner, Max Dill, but now one of the screen's foremost character actors.

Marjorie Rambeau, for more than a decade a reigning favorite on the New York stage and now widely sought by Hollywood studios for supporting roles, plays the role of the Senator's wife.

Another popular film player lending his talents to "Merrily We Live" is Phillip Reed, "tall, dark and handsome," who plays the role of Miss Bennett's discarded suitor and acts as a foil for the pranks of Aherne and Mowbray.

The Wrinkles on Dad's Face Turned to Smiles When He Received this Letter from His Son

Below is printed a letter from Mr. Grady L. Garner, of Hamden, Connecticut, to his father, Mr. J. W. F. Garner, of Montevallo. We congratulate the father upon the joy of his son's success. And we congratulate the son for having the grit in his craw to keep climbing toward the top.

The Letter

Hamden, Conn.
28 Myra Road
July 3, 1938

Dear Dad:

I can hardly wait to tell you of my good news as I'm sure you will be as glad to hear it as I was, (if such a thing is possible).

Effective July 1 I've been appointed Traffic Manual Equipment Engineer for the S. N. E. T. Co. Mr. Chidsey, who has had that job for sixteen years, is retiring, which is a lucky break for me. I worked under him about a year and a half.

I know, but about three months ago I was transferred to the Traffic Engineer's group. Had I been able to stay on the present job a few months longer, my education in all departments of traffic engineering would be fairly complete. It is anyway, being that I had a few years of experience in all sorts of toll trunk lay-

Enough about the job or I'll have you thinking I'm a "big shot." I just had to let you know, as I'm all fired anew with ambition. It's taken 10 years to get my first real break and Sylvia and I are both so tickled we can hardly believe it's true.

We took a week's vacation and went up to Montreal and Quebec. On the way back we stopped a couple of days in New Hampshire in the White Mountains. Sylvia and I hiked up Mount Washington and if you don't think that's a real task just come up and try it sometime. We started up at 8 a.m. and got down about 4 p.m. It's certainly well worth the climb to see the view you get up there.

Please plan to come up and see us before the summer is over. We are having lovely weather now.

Your loving son,
Grady.

FARMERS CAN OBTAIN FREE TESTS ON OATS

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama farmers having seed oats for sale are advised by W. H. Gregory, associate extension agronomist, to send about two pounds to L. N. Allen, seed analyst of the State Department of Agriculture at Montgomery, to get germination and purity tests run so that they will be in a position to tell prospective buyers the quality of their seed.

The State Department offers this service free of charge to all farmers of the state. The samples should consist of about two pounds of large seed and one pound of small seed and should be as nearly representative of the entire lot as possible, says Mr. Gregory.

Generally money can be saved by buying seed oats and other small grain at this time rather than waiting until planting time. It is very advisable to buy only seed that had this germination test which should run 85 per cent or better.

Another advantage of buying seed oats now is that plenty of time is allowed to treat them for smut before planting time. The formaldehyde method costs very little and consists of spraying one pint of formaldehyde on each fifty bushels of oats as they are being shoveled from one pile to another. After each shovelful has received one or two squirts of the formaldehyde the entire pile of seed should be covered with sprayed sacks to hold the fumes five hours or over night.

Pastures established since Jan. 1, 1930, on land which was severely eroded or on slopes considered too steep to cultivate will be considered as acreage not tilled annually or in regular rotation, states I. W. Duggan, regional director of AAA, in discussing classification of permanent pasture land in checking of performance for 1938.

Cows that are to freshen in the fall should be dry for a period of four to six weeks, states F. W. Burns, livestock specialist of the Alabama Extension Service. If the dry cow is on good pasture during the summer or early fall she will need very little extra care. If it is necessary to increase her flesh a mixture of equal parts by weight of corn meal, ground oats, and wheat bran will be found satisfactory.

QUINN REELECTED

Commissioner I. T. Quinn, of Alabama, was reelected president of the Southern Association of Conservation Commissioners recently in Asheville, N. C., where the southerners met jointly with the American Fisheries Society and the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners. The Southern Association was formed a few months ago at Jacksonville, Fla., and Commissioner Quinn was elected the first president. At Asheville, 46 states, Canada, and Mexico were represented in the two bodies. Quinn also retired as president of the American Fisheries Society, in which capacity he had served one term.

Improvement of pastures is the most important item in profitable beef production in Alabama, states R. S. Sugg, extension animal husbandman. Pastures capable of producing 250 to 300 pounds of beef per acre should be the goal set by all beef cattle producers, he says.

Montevallo-Helena Road Project Is Now Under Way

Commissioner Tatum Jubilant Over Improvement In This Section

Mr. S. M. Tatum, our member of the County Board of Revenue in the Second District, gives us an interesting prospectus of plans for improved county roads in this end of the county. At present Mr. Tatum is pushing a WPA project which will make a good road from Montevallo to Helena by way of Almont, Dogwood and Maylene. On the same project Mr. Naish, Board Member in District Three, is working from Helena toward Maylene. The work includes straightening, widening, grading and graveling the present road which traverses that territory. It will be a great improvement over the present road, according to Mr. Tatum, and will be of added convenience to the many people who live along the route.

Another interesting bit of road information was reported to the Montevallo Civic Club last week by Dr. J. I. Reid, chairman of the Road Committee. He stated that he has information from the State Highway Department, that plans have already been approved for hard surfacing the highway from Montevallo through Centerville, to Tuscaloosa.

Hines Withdraws From Senate Race

Democratic Nomination Left Open For Karl C. Harrison

The Times is in receipt of the following statement from Dr. J. A. Hines, of Siluria, announcing his withdrawal from the race for State Senator from the Fifteenth District:

"To My Friends in Shelby County:

"I want to take this opportunity to sincerely thank you for the support given me in my race for the Senate. I regret that I could not take the time off to enter the third campaign, and in order to save the county the expense of a third primary I have withdrawn from the Senate race; therefore, it will not be necessary for the county to go to the expense of a third run-off.

"I expect to and hope my friends will fully support the Democratic nominee in the November election. Again thanking you, I am sincerely,—J. A. Hines, M. D."

Harrison was the leader in the three-cornered race in the first Democratic Primary of May 3, when he was opposed by Dr. J. A. Hines and Mr. J. F. McGraw, of Vincent. In the run-off of June 14, it was Harrison against Hines, and Harrison was the winner by a comfortable margin of several hundred votes.

Then when the squabble arose over kidnapping of the absentee ballot box in Chilton County June 14, another run-off for Harrison and Hines was ordered in the three counties, as well as in the race for Tax Collector of Chilton County.

The withdrawal of Dr. Hines from the race last week obviates the holding of the Senatorial run-off which was set for July 26.

In the November election Harrison will be opposed by the Republican nominee, Fred Allen, of Calera.

BROTHERHOOD CLASS

Dr. Chas. T. Acker will be the principal speaker at the meeting of this class next Sunday at 10 a.m. in the Strand Theatre. The men of the community are urged to hear him.

No More Fire Protection---Yet

In view of the woeful inadequacy of fire protection facilities in Montevallo, The Times ventures again to remind the citizenship of the town of our hazardous situation.

Insurance rates are being increased constantly. Only the goodness of a kind Providence saves us from what would be a complete destruction of the town if a fire should be lighted in any one of many circumstances.

We have heard talk about more fire plugs. But in every case the talk has soon subsided, and we still sit here in ever present danger, with only four fire hydrants in the town. Isn't that a ridiculous situation in which we must curl up and resign with the empty conclusion that there is nothing we can do to remedy the matter?

At the risk of being called a fool rushing in where angels fear to tread, The Times is willing to venture the declaration that we can do something to remedy the situation, if we will only wake up and find our present opportunities.

We believe if the property owners of Montevallo will make the proper approach to the Town Council, those officials will lend a willing ear to our appeal. Furthermore, we believe the Council can and will suggest a plan to the people that will be workable and acceptable.

In plain words, The Times believes that the Warrior Water Company is not going to provide us the fire protection we deserve at their hands. But we also believe Montevallo is not at the mercy of the Warrior Water Company.

Under the present program of federal assistance to municipalities through the WPA we believe Montevallo can work out a plan whereby the Town can buy the Warrior Water Company properties, expand the facilities as they should be, and go ahead operating its own water system in a manner that will not be indifferent to the interests of property owners and public safety.

DR. TERRELL BRIDGES IN DR. GIVHAN'S OFFICE

Dr. Bridges is well known throughout this district. For the past eight years he has practiced medicine at Boothton. His practice here will be devoted to a service of the general public.

The many friends of Dr. Bridges welcome him and his family to Montevallo.

Henry W. Naish Succumbs To Long Illness

Henry W. Naish, County Treasurer of Shelby County, died Sunday, July 3, in a Birmingham hospital after a long illness. Funeral services were held Monday, July 4, at Siluria Methodist Church with burial in Elliottsville cemetery.

Mr. Naish served for a number of years as a member of the County Democratic Executive Committee and was always active in his party's interest. He served for a term as a member of the County Board of Registrars. In 1934 he was elected County Treasurer over strong opposition and while his health permitted him to serve, made a good record in that office. So popular was Mr. Naish that, though his illness prevented him from making a canvass of the county, he led the ticket in the May primary of this year for re-nomination and lost by a very small margin in the run-off.

It's Cool and Comfortable at the Strand

Some Undesirable Facts About Montevallo

The Times is compiling a list of undesirable, inadequate, and deplorable things about our home town.

As number one on the list we place the perfectly terrifying fact that the water company provides only four hydrants for fire protection in the town.

Item number two is the vastly inadequate schedule which the postoffice department provides in the dispatch of mail into and out of Montevallo.

Perhaps there are others. We will look around, and if we find them, we will let you know.

Oh yes, we will mention number three right now. It is the antiquated coffee-grinder type of our telephone equipment.

Please don't blame us for mentioning these things. We must put something in the paper for you to read, you know. And we find that some folks like their reading to be a mixture of both bad and good—pleasant and unpleasant things.

Check Up on Health of School Children

Parents of children who are to enter school in the fall were urged Tuesday by Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer, to have them examined for detection and correction of physical defects that might impede their progress in their studies, and if not corrected, result in serious illness in later years.

"The latest report of the State Board of Education showed that the average school day during the term found more than 21 per cent of elementary school children absent for various reasons," he said. "Although other conditions contribute to these absences, illness is one of the most important contributing causes. Detection and correction of physical defects before the child starts to school should do much to keep down the number of absences."—E. F. Sloan, M. D.

DR. FLOYD LACEY

Again the shadow of sorrow is cast into the hearts of the people of Montevallo by the loss of one of our most loved and most useful citizens.

The death of Dr. Floyd Lacey last week was as untimely as it was tragic, if we might express it in terms of human feelings. But above our limited understanding we must realize that there is a Power whose workings may bring sorrow and pain to our hearts, leave us confused in our interpretations of its purposes—yet we can only bow in humble submission, and remember that all things work together for good to them that love the Lord.

Dr. Lacey was young. He was a good man. His heart was big and open to every other comrade who walked the ways of life with him. His future was promising. His tragic death we liken to the cutting down of fine grain not yet ripened.

The young widow and baby he left behind pull at the tender heart-strings of sympathy of every one of their vast number of friends. Left without the love and strength of a good husband and father to shield and protect them, we hope that their pathway through the future may be brightened by the consoling warmth of friendly hearts all along the way.

Dr. Lacey left his business and office without opportunity to explain its details to anyone. In view of the circumstances, we feel it is not out of place here to suggest the hope that all who may owe him money for work done will promptly volunteer to come to the office and make payment.

MORE HOME GROWN FEED IS NEEDED FOR CATTLE

Auburn, Ala.—More home raised feed and better pastures are needed for the increased number of cattle in Alabama, says Prof. J. C. Grimes, head of the animal husbandry department, Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

"It is evident," says Mr. Grimes, "from figures recently released from the office of J. C. Garrett, state, statistician, that Alabama farmers are turning to beef production as one means of supplementing their income from cotton. Mr. Garrett's figures show that there were 143,000 more cattle on Alabama farms, January 1, 1938, than on January 1, 1925. This increase was shared by all counties within the state except Jefferson, Autauga, Clarke, Mobile, Washington, and Pike. These six counties showed a slight decline in cattle population between 1925 and 1938."

"That Alabama cattle are increasing in quality as well as in number is indicated by reports from county agents which show that more than 1,200 purebred bulls have been bought by Alabama breeders during the last three years. The above information will be gratifying to those who are interested in a more diversified system of farming in Alabama. It might be well to point out, however, that pasture improvement and the growing of winter feed crops must accompany increased cattle numbers."

Irene Dunne and Fairbanks Jr. In Musical Comedy with Real Plot Strand-Thur. and Fri. July 14-15

"Joy Of Living" Deals With Pursuit Of Happiness Of Picture Star

With a sparkling cast headed by Irene Dunne and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., "Joy of Living," presents a brand new theme for a comedy with music.

"Joy of Living" deals with the pursuit of happiness, a plan for which is presented in a light-hearted treatment. Two contrasting characters—a popular musical comedy star who, thanks to the demands of her selfish family, is constantly in debt; and a forthright sort of playboy—are the principals in the picture.

Certain that her parents and her sister love her in spite of their expensive habits, the star indignantly quarrels with the young man when he urges her to let the relatives shift for themselves, and learn how to have a good time before it is too late.

On this basis the story proceeds along a unique path marked by arguments and reconciliations and a charming romance as the confident young man endeavors to convince the girl that his reasoning is sound. His rescue of her from a mob of autograph hunters, a police court episode when the star has him arrested for annoying her, a hectic marriage, and the young man's efforts to persuade her to go to the South Seas with him on his tramp steamer-yacht, are among the unusual features of the picture, which builds to a sudden crisis which strips the veil from the star's eyes.

Miss Dunne's talents as a singer and comedienne are fully used in her role, said to give her the finest opportunities to date. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is rated ideally cast as the unconventional, pleasure-seeker whose campaign to bring happiness into the heroine's life is a stormy one. In the supporting cast are Alice Brady, Guy Kibbee, Jean Dixon, Eric Blore, Lucille Ball and Warren Hymer.

GOBBLER LAW

Alabama's "gobbler law," which prohibits the killing of the wild turkey hen under any circumstances is known and copied throughout the United States. Robert B. Vale, in his book, "Wings, Fur and Shot," says, "The State of Alabama has led the entire nation in bringing back the wild turkey. It has been more far-sighted and more advanced than any of the others. Alabama did it by limiting the kill to gobblers. Texas followed the lead of Alabama and turkey shooting is improving there."

if cattle growing is to prove profitable. No county has ever yet become a great livestock section that did not at the same time become a great feed producing section. Fortunately, Alabama can grow both the winter feed and pasture necessary for a great cattle country. Peanut hay is grown in South Alabama, Johnson grass and alfalfa hay in West Alabama, and lespedeza hay in North Alabama, while all parts of the state can grow soybean hay, velvet beans, and silage. When any or all these crops are combined with peanut meal or cottonseed meal they furnish an excellent ration for wintering stocker cattle or for fattening steers."

FARMERS ADVISED TO PRODUCE OWN PORK

Auburn, Ala.—At current prices for ordinary meat, a year's supply will cost the average family about $90.00, states F. W. Burns, extension animal husbandman. To buy this meat will require one-fourth of the cash income of the average farm. It is quite likely that it will pay the average farmer to produce hogs for home consumption under conditions of prices of feed and hogs that would make it doubtful economy to produce them for market, he continues.

Fall pigs should be farrowed in September on late-planted soybeans or good permanent pastures. The sow, while suckling pigs, should be fed a mixture of 60 pounds of corn meal, 32 pounds of shorts, and 8 pounds of tankage or corn and skim milk, says Mr. Burns. An acre of oats, rye, or crimson clover per sow should be planted early in October to furnish grazing for the pigs during winter and spring.

The spring litter of pigs should be fed corn and one-half pound daily of protein supplement composed of equal parts of tankage and cottonseed meal or skim milk. As soon as the pigs reach a weight of 180-200 pounds they should be marketed as the price usually drops from September to December. Corn may be "hogged off" if temporary fences are available. The electric fence is excellent to use for this purpose.

Six bushels of corn and 50 pounds of protein supplement will produce 100 pounds of pork on thrifty, well-bred hogs. Hogs furnish one of our best markets for surplus corn and should be used to supplement the cotton income on more Alabama farms.

81 WILDLIFE CLUBS

There are 81 wildlife conservation councils and sportsmen's clubs in this state affiliated with the Alabama Wildlife Federation, according to Tom Ford, secretary of the federation, who recently compiled a list of officers of each group. Baldwin and Walker Counties each have four affiliated clubs, while several other counties have two and three clubs. Jefferson County Sportsmen's Association, with over 1,500 members, is perhaps the largest in membership. The State Federation is now engaged in a drive to obtain financial support for perpetuation of the organization in Alabama.

In Alabama, if the office of governor and lieutenant-governor both become vacant, the president pro tem of the Senate becomes governor, but he cannot fill out the unexpired term. If the vacancy occurs more than sixty days before a general election, he must call an election to fill the vacancy and he can serve only until such election is held.

CATTLE NEED WATER, SALT, SHADE IN SUMMER

Auburn, Ala.—Cattle cannot make good gains while on pasture in the summer unless they are provided with shade, water and salt, advises J. C. Grimes, head of the animal industry department of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

Cattle eat grass in the cool of the morning and evening. After they have had a fill of grass they like to get a good fresh drink of water and lie down in the shade. There they regurgitate, rechew, and digest their food. They cannot do a good job of digesting food and laying on flesh or manufacturing milk if they are thirsty or uncomfortable from standing in the hot sun.

The kind of minerals which cattle need depends to a large extent on the kind of plants growing in the pasture and especially on the type of soil on which these plants grow. As a rule, calcium, phosphorus, and salt are the minerals needed most under Alabama conditions. Salt is especially relished by cattle and since it is available on every farm should always be provided in the pasture. Calcium may be supplied in the form of ground limestone, and phosphorus in the form of steam bone meal.

PRESIDENT INVITED

The Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo Association has extended an invitation to President Roosevelt to "look in" on the 10th annual rodeo to be held off Dauphin Island in lower Mobile Bay, August 8, 9, and 10, according to Albert Gill, president of the association. President Roosevelt's cruise itinerary will bring him to Pensacola on August 10 where he will board a train for Warm Springs, and rodeo officials are hopeful that the president will stop off at Dauphin Island en route to Pensacola. It is known that President Roosevelt is fond of deep sea fishing, and at the Alabama rodeo he would see the art of salt water angling as practiced by approximately 600 experts from over 20 states, celebrating the rodeo homecoming jubilee. Gov. Graves and Commissioner I. T. Quinn joined with the rodeo association in the invitation.

The general ad valorem tax in Alabama is lower on a per capita basis than in any other state in the union except Arkansas. In Arkansas the per capita levy is $10.93. In Alabama it is $12.25. The highest is in Nevada, the rate being $67.15. Florida has a rate of $38.12 and Maryland's levy is $33.61. All the other Southern states drop below thirty dollars per capita. Most of the Northern and Western states are far above this figure.

BIG ENOUGH TO DO THE JOB

... But Not too Big to be Friendly

"MAKE to our order NINE MILLION telephone calls! Make them clear, fast and accurate!"

That's the big order we get every day from the South's telephone users.

To handle this great volume of calls is a tremendous job. It requires the services of over 7,000 men and 12,000 women... and an investment of more than 232 dollars worth of plant and equipment for every telephone.

This organization must be big to provide the fast, accurate, high-quality telephone service that the South demands. But we are not too big to be friendly neighbors. Not too big nor too busy to greet you with a smile... to serve you with courtesy and consideration... to help you locate a doctor in a hurry... or to lend a helping hand whenever you need some special telephone service. To us, telephone users are people—not just telephone numbers.

Use your telephone more — to keep in touch with family and friends... to speed your business affairs... to get things done quickly and easily, anywhere.

"Robin Hood" Coming Sun. and Mon. July 17-18 To The Strand Theatre

Robin Hood! How strange the fascination, how thrilling the sound of these two words—the legendary name of a hunted outlaw—beloved by thousands of Englishmen.

Well may it thrill, for "The Adventures of Robin Hood," a Warner Bros. film in Technicolor, starring Errol Flynn, is coming to the Strand Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

Rich in lore is the story of how a Saxon noble, Sir Robin of Locksley, the ablest archer in all England, gathered a band of stalwarts around him to harass the cruel Norman knights. How the outlawed Robin Hood plundered the rich and fed the poor has been sung and re-sung in ballads and has come down through the centuries—an incomparably fascinating story.

With this wealth of material did two Warner Bros. writers sit down to fashion the script, the picturization of which is due to reach the Strand Theatre so soon.

"Constant readers" all over the world are probably going to take their pens in hand to launch loud and lusty complaints to newspaper editors when they get a glimpse of the line, "Original story by Norman Reilly Raine and Seton I. Miller," which will flash on the screen among the credits for "The Adventures of Robin Hood."

Messrs. Raine and Miller, when assigned to do the screen play on Robin Hood, discovered a great wealth of material through which they waded with mounting enthusiasm. After digesting several dozen different versions of the popular legend, still popular after eight centuries, they went back to the original sources—old ballads, and legends, some of them printed in the archaic English of Chaucer's day.

Having done this, they tossed away all the notes they had made and wrote a skeleton story of the particular incidents of Robin Hood they remembered from their boyhood days.

The picture contains no end of battling with bows and arrows, quarter staffs, pikes and broadswords and has a particularly thrilling duel between Robin and Sir Guy. Immense scenic sets were built for "The Adventures of Robin Hood" described as the most elaborate film of the year. It is accompanied by a superb musical score, composed by Erich Wolfgang Korn-gold.

The old belief that it takes a lot of money to terrace a field or farm is erroneous, says Sam Doughty, soil conservationist of the extension service, in discussing the need for checking soil erosion. It is recommended, he says, that farmers build a few terraces the first year and a few more each succeeding year until the entire farm is terraced. By this means the expense will not be great in any one year.

Many farmers in Alabama could add to their incomes by keeping a small flock of ewes, states R. S. Sugg, extension animal husbandman. This season of the year is a good time to start a flock, as foundation stock can usually be purchased at lower prices than at any other time of the year, he says. As with other classes of livestock, good pasture, both permanent and temporary, is essential to successful sheep raising.

Girl Scouts To Move In On Camp Andree

Montevallo Girl Will Attend Two-Week Meet August 17-31

Among the fifty-one Girl Scouts from fourteen states and Mexico who qualified for attendance at Camp Andree, Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., which is the only camp conducted by national headquarters, is Kathleen Coyle, of Montevallo.

In addition to the opportunity to exchange experiences with camp mates from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the girls attending Camp Andree will have an even wider variety of activities from which to select this year.

According to Miss Frances Morse, national camp advisor for the Girl Scouts, "All of our camp projects for this year have been planned for individuals, with the emphasis on the girls' own interests. We offer great flexibility in the choice of activities and freedom in planning each day's program."

At Camp Andree the girls may choose a two-week bicycle expedition through New England, or a six-day walking trip along unfrequented paths. They may go on a gypsy trip, where they will pitch their tents far away from the main camp, and have a more primitive camping experience, or they may share a four-day sightseeing trip to New York City under the chaperonage of Girl Scout staff executives.

Girls who are interested in arts and crafts will visit studios and potteries where they can see painters, weavers, potters and wood carvers at work. Two weeks during August will be devoted to ceramics, when field trips will be taken with the geology groups to find clay in its native state, and two weeks will be devoted to the field of weaving and textiles. During this time, August 17-31, there will be exhibits, at Camp Andree, of fabrics, from the earliest type of pattern bedspread to the most modern finger weaving, and a museum demonstration of cotton, wool and linen in their journey from the boll, the raw wool and the flax to the finished product.

More home raised feed and better pastures are needed for the increased number of cattle in Alabama, is the belief of Prof. J. C. Grimes, head of the A. P. I. animal husbandry department.

Many Alabama farmers who in the past have suffered losses when trying to cure early crops of grasses and legumes as hay are turning to the silo as a means of preserving these valuable feeds for winter use, says F. W. Burns, livestock specialist of the Alabama Extension Service.

Only four members of the present state senate were candidates for re-election. All four were successful in the recent primary. Under the courtesy rule of allowing each county to have its turn in furnishing the senator where the district is composed of more than one county, twenty-three of the senators never succeed themselves. So a majority of the senators are always new members.

Hoffman's Store To Be Enlarged

Interior of Store to be Remodeled
And Renovated; Addition to Building Now Going Up

Mr. Ellis Hoffman, proprietor of Hoffman's, of Montevallo, announces plans, now in progress, to greatly enlarge, modernize and improve this popular store.

At present the work of constructing a 30-foot addition to the rear of the building is in progress. This addition will make the present store space 30 feet longer, and will be used for a modern up-to-date department for men's, ladies' and children's shoes, and a complete line of ladies' ready-to-wear, dresses, coats, sweaters, etc. Under the 30-foot addition will be a large concrete basement.

Plans are made also for a complete remodeling of the front of the building to make deep show windows of plate glass, providing for the most attractive display of merchandise.

Throughout the entire store attractive new floor coverings will be laid, and new fixtures added.

"We feel that our ability to enlarge and improve our store in the short time of two years which we have been in Montevallo is proof of the fine response we have received from the trade, and we are grateful to those who have been our friends and customers and thereby made possible this advance step.

"You can rest assured that Hoffman's will keep pace with the demands of the people who trade in Montevallo, and will ever be ready and prepared to serve their needs," said Mr. Hoffman.

Klotzman Brothers Will Celebrate Anniversary

Klotzman Brothers, Joe and Sam, will open up a big sales event at their store tomorrow (Friday) celebrating the twelfth anniversary of the establishment of their business in Montevallo.

This event has been widely advertised throughout Montevallo trade territory, and it is expected that it will bring a hearty response from the large number of friends and customers of this popular store.

Joe and Sam Klotzman are good, hustling business men, and good citizens who try to make a good town and a good business by the practice of the very best business principles in dealing with the public. Their friends will be impressed by this statement made in announcing the anniversary sale:

"Fair and square is our motto, and we will continue dealing as such. We have been serving the people of Montevallo and surrounding communities for twelve years. In celebrating our twelfth anniversary we feel like we should give our good friends and customers values that will make them look forward to this event.

"Without your fine loyalty and patronage we could not have grown and served the public as we have done."

Soil-Building Crops Urged For Farmers

Auburn, Ala.—P. O. Davis, director of the Alabama Extension Service, last week called on Alabama farmers to take advantage of the opportunity offered them under the 1938 farm act to get pay for putting into effect soil-building practices on their farms.

Mr. Davis has called on all county agents and agricultural leaders to select practices needed in the counties and to show the farmers how to go about doing these things to earn some of the soil-building practice funds which are available to Alabama farmers under the 1938 program.

"The soil-building allowance for Alabama this year is estimated to be $4,182,000 or around $60,000 per county," stated Mr. Davis. "I was very much surprised to learn that in 1936 Alabama farmers were allotted $1,905,748 for soil-building payments but earned only $1,694,667 a financial loss of $211,081. In addition, from all indications, they lost even more than that in 1937."

Mr. Davis said he wished to emphasize that farmers, by adopting the improved practices, are improving the soil on the farm and getting paid for doing so. Among the practices for which payments are made, if put into effect before December 31, are establishing permanent pastures, seeding lespedeza, summer legumes, winter cover crops, strip cropping, planting trees, terracing, and reseeded pastures.

Farmers are advised by Mr. Davis to see their county agents for a list of things they can do to earn their share of the more than $4,000,000 and build up their soils at the same time.

FARMERS AND WIVES WILL STUDY AT FARMERS WEEK

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama farmers and their wives will have an opportunity to "go to school" and at the same time see at first hand what improved farm practices accomplish when they visit the Alabama Polytechnic Institute for the annual Farmers and Homemakers Week, August 1 to 5.

Classes will be held this year as usual in agronomy, livestock, home economics, horticulture, agricultural engineering, and poultry. However, an innovation this year is the arrangement for farmers to ask questions and to discuss with fellow farmers the various problems in each of the subjects. Farmers who have made a success in livestock raising, for instance, will be asked to tell other farmers just how they carried on the work for this success.

"Farmers and Homemakers Week this year is going to be devoted to a great extent to farmers' discussion of their common problems and the solution to these problems," states P. O. Davis, director of the Alabama Extension Service. "Of course, the tours will be held to allow farmers and their wives to see what is being done in research work by the Alabama Experiment Station, but we are interested this year in hearing how farmers have succeeded with various types of farming. We believe that great headway can be made in the state's agriculture through these farmer forums."

LIGHTNING KILLS 34 IN STATE IN 1936

Montgomery, Ala. — Thirty-four persons died in Alabama in 1936 as a result of being struck by lightning, or more than 11 times as many as were killed in airplane accidents, according to a tabulation of accidental death reports prepared by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health. No figures are yet available for 1937.

"On the basis of the latest available records, more people are killed by lightning in Alabama than in any other state except Georgia," Dr. J. N. Baker, State Health Officer, commented in making public these figures. "The area of abnormally high mortality rates from lightning is limited to two groups of contiguous states situated in two different sections of the country. The first is the southeast and includes North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas. The second extends from the Canadian border southward through Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona."

Vulcan, God of the Forge, stands on a tower of concrete and steel one hundred feet high on Red Mountain overlooking Birmingham. The largest cast iron statue in the world, Vulcan was cast in 1901, and is the second largest statue in the world, only the Statue of Liberty being larger.

THE ALABAMA INSANE HOSPITAL

Alabama's hospital for the care and treatment of the insane was established by an act of the legislature, approved February 6, 1852. The main hospital for the treatment of white patients is known as the Bryce Hospital, named for Dr. Peter Bryce, who was the first superintendent. He served from 1860 to 1892.

Dr. J. T. Searcy served as superintendent from 1892 to 1919. Since that time Dr. W. D. Partlow has been superintendent. This hospital is located at Tuscaloosa.

The hospital for Negro patients is located at Mt. Vernon and is known as the Searcy Hospital and was named for the second superintendent of Alabama's institution for the care of her insane.

The state also operates an institution for the care of its feeble minded. This is known as the Partlow State School, and was named for Dr. Partlow, the present superintendent. It is located at Tuscaloosa.

At the end of the fiscal year, September 30, 1937, there were 4,352 patients in the Bryce Hospital, 1,741 in the Searcy Hospital and 539 in the Partlow State School, a total of 6,632 being cared for by the state. There are 139 of these patients that are known as "paying patients," where relatives are paying the state to take care of them.

The allowance by the state for each patient is $3.25 per week. Many of the patients are able to work and the state maintains farms at all three of these institutions where many of the requirements are produced. The last annual report shows that the farms last year produced 30,000 bushels of corn, 167 bales of cotton, 7,000 bushels of potatoes, 62,354 pounds of pork, hogs sold on foot, $7,302.40; 81,907 gallons of milk and a number of other products.

The hospital site and lands at the Bryce Hospital covers 4,863 acres and with the buildings is valued at $2,308,713.64. The state owns 2,192 acres at Searcy Hospital, which with the buildings, is valued at $459,698.35.

All three of these institutions are crowded and have been for several years.

The last session of the legislature made provision for additional buildings but this will give only temporary relief since the applications pending will more than fill the new buildings if all are accepted. The population of the insane has increased about 50 per cent during the past ten years.

KILLING HOUSEFLIES

Auburn, Ala.—The adult housefly may be killed in buildings by spraying with a kerosene-pyrethrum mixture, says J. J. Robinson, head of the zoology-entomology department, Auburn. The pyrethrum extract known as 19 to 1 is effective.

A mixture of one part of the pyrethrum extract in nineteen parts of kerosene when sprayed in a room is effective in killing flies. After spraying the room it should be closed for about half an hour in order to get the best results. Pyrethrum extract may be obtained from local drug stores or the farmers' exchange.

R. F. LYON TO SERVE AS COUNTY TREASURER

R. F. Lyon of Columbiana was elected by the Board of Revenue, in session Monday, July 4, to serve the unexpired term of Henry Naish as County Treasurer. He entered promptly on his new duties.

Mr. Lyon won the nomination for the office of Treasurer in the June 14 primary and his election by the Board to fill the vacancy caused by the passing of Treasurer Henry W. Naish will doubtless be pleasing to all the people.

Mr. Lyon is a candidate in the general election in November for the full term in his office, beginning January 15, 1939.

But It's True

The servant, executed for murder, was immediately operated on by friends who were interested in medicine. He suffered no bad effects beyond a sore throat.

You probably have seen little bits of coiled dirt lying on the surface of the ground. These have been disgorged there by worms, which eat the dirt standing in their way as they attempt to proceed through the ground.

It just happened that the fathers of the four girls all died before the births of their children, and the mothers all succumbed immediately before the births of the children.

Farmers Union Drive Plans Announced

Membership Drive In Alabama

To Be Directed
By Reger

Lynn, Ala.—A drive to enlist Alabama farmers into the ranks of the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union will get under way July 18, it was announced today by McKinley Gilbert, state chairman of the farmers' organization and director of the drive. Ed Reger, nationally known Farmers' Union leader and a close co-worker of the late John A. Simpson, will be in the state for a week's speaking tour, Mr. Gilbert said.

The itinerary of Mr. Reger and his party will be as follows:

July 18, 7:30 p.m., Chilton County; July 19, 10 a.m., Shelby County; July 19, 7:30 p.m., Bibb County; July 20, 10 a.m., Etowah County; July 20, 7:30 p.m., Blount County; July 21, 10 a.m., Jasper, Walker County; July 21, 7:30 p.m., Jefferson County; July 22, 10 a.m., Double Springs, Winston County; July 22, 7:30 p.m., Franklin County.

Officers of the county organizations of the Farmers' Union are in charge of local arrangements. Vester Burkett, state president, will accompany Mr. Reger. Mr. Reger is state organizer of the Oklahoma section of the Farmers' Union and is largely responsible. Mr. Gilbert said, for the splendid growth of the organization in that state. "He is thoroughly familiar with the problems facing the farmers today," he said.

Speaking of the Farmers' Union position, Mr. Gilbert said that the union "stands for unity with labor and the common people in support of the progressive measures of the Roosevelt administration, as far as they go. But they must go farther. to include cost of production for our products, low cost refinancing and tenancy legislation which will make it possible for tenants to acquire land. Our fight is against the middle men, the speculators and the Wall Street financiers who gouge workers, farmers and the people generally."

ANOTHER NEW BUILDING AT COLUMBIANA

Soon there will be another new business house in Columbiana, our thriving county capital. J. L. Davis is building on his lot next to the Norris Building. C. S. Norris, of Montevallo, has the contract and the work is being rushed to completion. Mr. Davis has not yet decided whether he will occupy the new building with his own business, the Davis Drug Co., or rent it.

TO MY FRIENDS in Shelby County

I want to take this opportunity to sincerely thank you for the support given me in my race for the Senate. I regret that I could not take the time off to enter the third campaign and in order to save the county the expense of a third primary, I have withdrawn from the Senate race, therefore, it will not be necessary to go to the expense of the third run-off.

I expect to and hope my friends will fully support the Democratic nominees in the November election.

Again thanking you, I am

Sincerely,

J. A. HINES, M. D.

New Fire Truck Is The Next Need

This, With New Plugs, Would Make Us Fairly Safe

Developments within the past week furnish some evidences of definite steps toward better fire protection facilities for Montevallo.

If plans by the Warrior Water Company are carried through, and we certainly may assume they will be, we shall have, in a reasonable time, ten fire plugs instead of four.

Now, may we suggest these questions?

1. Is the supplementary fire-fighting equipment of the town (fire truck, hose, etc.) sufficient to meet the demands of emergencies against which we should be protected?

2. If it is not sufficient, can the Town afford to make it sufficient?

3. Will the property owners of the town back up and support the Town officials in the steps necessary to make this equipment efficient?

In answer to question number one The Times believes that our fire truck and hose equipment is not capable of doing its proper part in fighting fires, even if we had a fire plug on every corner in town.

Answer to second question: The Times believes the Town CAN afford to provide adequate truck and hose equipment.

Answer to third question: We believe the property owners of the town will support and approve such steps as are necessary for the Town officials to make our fire truck and hose equipment able to protect property against the hazards of fire.

Commendation is given to the conservative attitude of our Town officials in handling public affairs, and their careful approach to the stupendous task they face in keeping the Town's obligations.

None of us want our governing authorities to plunge us into a program that will be beyond our means. But, with all other things considered, we cannot think of any material thing that means more to our people than the safety of their property. In the final analysis, if our property were destroyed, there could be little use in working or hoping for any public interest in the community.

The Times believes our officials are of a disposition to provide as much fire protection for property of the town as that property deserves. We believe the property owners will go with them cheerfully in that direction.

We cannot splurge, merely to put on a show. That would be foolish. We cannot put on a lot of false front, but we can and should go a reasonable distance, commensurate with our means and our very vital individual and collective interests.

It would be a colossal joke if we get a lot of new fire plugs and couldn't get the old truck to one of them to squirt water on a fire.

GONE TO CUBA

Harrison Expresses Thanks To Friends

Due to the fact that my opponent, Dr. J. A. Hines, has withdrawn from the race for the office for State Senator from this Senatorial District, there will be no primary held on July 26th for this office.

I wish to express to the people of this district my sincere appreciation and gratitude for the splendid support you gave me, and I promise to represent you at all times to the best of my ability.

To Hold Demonstration of Electric Fencing

Mr. W. J. Browder, Assistant Agricultural Engineer, will be with us at 9 o'clock Friday morning, July 22nd, to discuss and demonstrate electric fencing for livestock, as well as other rural electrification problems.

The electric fence has great promise in developing our livestock program, and I am sure you will want to learn more about its uses.

We have arranged a meeting at S. M. Tatum's farm near Longview on the Birmingham Highway, beginning at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Come and bring any neighbors who might be interested.—A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

Wanted---A Recreation Hall

The Montevallo Times recently issued an S. O. S. to conscientious citizens in this vicinity. We wish to add our bit by voicing an agreement to the plan for a recreation center.

Such a hall would promote community interest and create a spirit of friendliness among the people.

Young people are constantly wanting "somewhere to go and something to do." A place to go and play games, dance, and mix with other young people would be just the thing to occupy their leisure time.

A playground for children would teach them to enjoy outdoor life. While their parents are otherwise engaged, they could play safely and benefit by it.

The older group could find enjoyable recreation in bridge, dancing and other amusements.

We feel sure that a playground for Montevallo would be a step toward better living—a better town, and we approve wholeheartedly any plan to further the idea.

We ask the cooperation of all citizens of Montevallo, and we know they will lend their full support to this project.—Summer School Times.

MISS BROWNFIELD ELECTED TO OFFICE IN N. E. A.

News from the National Education Association which met recently in New York, indicates that Miss Lelah Brownfield, professor of secretarial science at Alabama College, was elected first vice president of the Department of Business Education.

Having worked for a decade to make a better department in secretarial science at Alabama College, Miss Brownfield has increased the number of courses from shorthand and typing only, to an all-inclusive curriculum equal to a university course in business administration.

Miss Brownfield received her Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of Illinois, and her M. A. from the University of New York.

The boys put two coats of white with green trim on the windows and door frames.

Some of the girls in the group are making curtains. These students have profited by this experience and have done a highly commendable piece of work.

Dr. Alice Keliher Approves Recreation

In connection with the possibility of a recreation center for the people in this vicinity, Dr. Alice V. Keliher made the following statement:

"The most important need in Montevallo at this time is a recreation center.

"When young people spend their time at road houses and other undesirable places, it is the fault of the older citizens in not providing an adequate place for pleasure for them.

"This is a great opportunity for public-minded citizens in and around Montevallo, and I sincerely hope they will give this idea serious consideration."

Their company is interested in securing enough property in one lump to take care of a minimum of ten new houses. The buildings proposed would be of modern construction, and when completed could be rented or sold, preferably sold, to individual people under the Federal Housing plan.

Bruce White was in an automobile wreck early Wednesday morning on the Montgomery Highway a short distance south of Clanton.

Mr. White, driving a Chevrolet coupe, was on his way to Dothan to bring Mrs. Stanley White to Montevallo. Reports of the accident state that a heavy rain obstructed his vision in passing a truck and the car ran off the road.

Better Fire Protection Now Indicated For Montevallo

The Montevallo Times is happy to find indications that we were wrong in the expression of our belief last week that the Warrior Water Company is not going to do anything about providing better fire protection for Montevallo.

In a letter dated July 14 (last Thursday) Mr. Polglaze, head of the water company, advises City Clerk, Mr. C. M. Gardner, as follows:

"Orders are being placed this week for materials to begin installation of additional fire hydrants wanted by the Town of Montevallo. This material should begin to arrive next week. Construction work will start as early as possible thereafter."

Upon interviewing Mr. R. P. Holcombe, local manager for the Warrior Water Company, we find this week that he has in hand the plans for a tool house, tools, picks, shovels, etc., which will be required for digging ditches, laying mains, and installing the additional fire plugs.

These plans, he says, call for installing fire plugs at Mrs. Yeager's corner, Dr. Steckel's residence, Mrs. Watson's residence, Sonny Jeter's residence, one in the vicinity of the ice plant, and one near the J. N. Baker residence.

Further outlining the plan which will be followed in the installation of these additional fire plugs, Mr. Holcomb said:

"We will tap the present main at the Lyman place, proceeding from there to Dr. Parnell's corner and turn north one block to Mrs. Yeager's corner, where a plug will be installed. Then we will cross Highland Avenue, continuing north to the Barney Burnett place. Here we will turn east and go to Dr. Steckel's, where another plug will be put in.

"The second extension will begin at the Masonic Hall building on Vine Street. New main will be laid south on Vine Street to the Dock Phillips corner. From this extension a connection will be made to Mrs. Watson's for a new fire plug at her corner. From the Phillips place the new main will go by Pete Heath's and cross the creek to the ice plant, where a new fire plug will be put in that vicinity.

"The third extension will begin at the pump house of the water company, cross the creek at the spring and intersect Selma Street at Dr. Acker's home. It will continue west on Selma Street to the J. N. Baker place, where a new fire plug will be installed."

WE SEE SOME SIGNS

There are some signs evidencing that Montevallo may soon have the much-needed addition to its fire protection facilities.

Word from the Warrior Water Company indicates that plans are under way, and that work will begin soon on a program to install six more fire plugs.

We said last week we believed they would not do it. Developments of the past week have caused us to change our opinion.

Furthermore, we continue to hear talk of some plans of the Town to work out a program for owning its water system.

At all events, let us hope that we may have more fire plugs as quickly as possible; and we are glad to add that it looks like we will.

MAIL SERVICE

Our mention last week of the insufficiency of mail dispatch into and out of Montevallo did not take so very well at the postoffice. Our postoffice department believes it has a schedule of local service which is about as good as possible. This may be true, and we are glad to see them stick up for it.

So convincing were the arguments of the postmaster and the clerks in support of the present system that it all but made us wish we had not mentioned the subject.

However, there is one point we shall yet hold—that we should have mail into Montevallo earlier in the mornings than we now get it. We think the postoffice boys themselves are not well fortified nor of a strong disposition to offer much rebuttal to this point.

DAVIS GETS A BADGE

Mr. W. M. Davis, the genial and popular local manager of the Alabama Power Company at Montevallo, was called into the office of the company in Birmingham last week.

Occasion was the pinning-on of a badge marking his fifteenth year of service with the company. This trophy came to him at the hands of Mr. Thomas W. Martin, president.

We congratulate Mr. Davis upon this fifteenth anniversary of his service with a great organization. Alabama Power Company has done worthwhile things for the people of Alabama since it was instituted and nursed in its infancy by Captain W. P. Lay, of Gadsden.

Good, conscientious, and useful men like W. M. Davis in the ranks of the organization have furnished the groundwork that was necessary to support the brain children of the Martins, the Mitchells and other leaders who expanded the plans inspired by Captain Lay's dreams.

DeSHAZO WITH TIMES

Mr. Guy H. DeShazo, of Panama City, Florida, has come to Montevallo to accept a position with The Times. He will have charge of the mechanical department.

Mrs. DeShazo will come here as soon as she can close out their business interests in Panama City, and they will make their future home in Montevallo.

The publisher of The Times is glad to have the association of Mr. DeShazo in the business. His experience and ability as a printer, we feel sure, will add substantially to the efficiency and promptness of our plant in serving the demands of our customers.

Outstanding results with plantings of lespedeza sericea have been obtained by farmers in the Soil Conservation Service demonstration area at Anniston, service technicians report.

Plantings were made following a cultipacker on a well prepared soil that had been firmed by rain. Virtually all of the 1937 plantings will be cut for hay this year.

TWO BIG GARS CAUGHT

What is believed to be some kind of a gar killing record was reported to the Conservation Department recently by Hugh McCarrerty, assistant fish hatchery superintendent. Two alligator gars totaling 190 pounds in weight were taken from the Tombigbee River near Aliceville, Pickens County, by B. F. Johnson. The smaller gar was six feet and one inch long, and weighed 88 pounds. It was taken in a net. The larger gar was seven feet and two inches long, and weighed 102 pounds. He was caught on a trot line. Pictures of both will be in the next issue of the Alabama Game and Fish News August 1.

MIGRATORY REGULATIONS

Migratory game bird bag limits and open seasons for 1938 are expected to be announced by the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey sometime within the next few weeks, possibly in August. Open seasons on such migratory birds as doves, ducks, geese and snipe are fixed by presidential proclamation on advice of the Biological Survey, which is a division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Last year Alabama had a 30-day wild duck season, from Nov. 27 to Dec. 26, with a bag limit of 10 a day. There was a split dove season for north and south Alabama hunters.

Cotton Marketing Quota Procedure Is Explained

Auburn, Ala.—Regulations for establishing marketing quotas for cotton under the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 and outlining the procedure to be followed by producers, ginners, and buyers in connection with the marketing of this year's cotton crop have been announced by A. W. Jones, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Alabama.

Use of marketing quotas for the 1938 cotton crop was approved by more than 92 per cent of the farmers voting in the referendum on March 12.

Quotas will be based on the cotton acreage allotments and the normal yields of individual farms, to be established by the county committees as provided in the act. The normal cotton yields of individual farms are now being calculated from the available farm records and notices of marketing quotas will be mailed to farmers as soon as these have been determined.

The cotton marketing quota will be the normal production or the actual production, whichever is greater, of the acreage allotment of that farm, plus the amount of cotton from any previous crop which the producers on the farm have on hand.

On a farm planting within the acreage allotment, the producer will get a card indicating that he may sell without payment of any penalty all the cotton produced on that farm in 1938, and any cotton on hand from a previous crop. A producer receiving this card may also receive a certificate, as evidence that he holds the card, to be used in marketing cotton by telephone, telegraph, mail or other methods in which the producer does not complete the sale directly in the presence of the buyer.

Producers on whose farms the total production does not exceed 1,000 pounds of lint cotton in 1938 will be exempt from the 2-cent penalty in connection with the marketing of any part of their cotton.

On farms on which cotton allotments are overplanted, the producers will receive another type card. This card will specify the amount of cotton produced in 1938 or held over from a prior year which the producer is entitled to sell without penalty.

Producers will be required to identify their cotton at the time it is marketed by showing the buyer their marketing cards or certificates.

The penalty on cotton marketed in excess of the farm quota will be collected by the buyer at the time of the sale and may be deducted by him from the price paid for the cotton. However, the producer may arrange with the county committee to pay or secure payment of any penalty which he may incur, prior to the sale of his cotton. All penalties collected by the buyers must be remitted to the treasurer of the county committee in which the cotton was produced within 30 days after the sale. These sums will be converted into the treasury of the United States.

The quota regulations require ginners to keep a record of all cotton ginned and to submit a report of the ginnings on prescribed forms to the county committee twice a month. Buyers will be required to make a record of each purchase of cotton from producers on farms which exceeded their allotments and to send a copy of this record to the county committee.

producers from their general appearance and conformation, states Dr. Sugg, adding that in many herds the best looking cows often prove to be the poorest breeders.

Both the breeder of purebred cattle and the commercial producer should make a careful study of the cow herd and note the type of calves they produce and how these particular calves grow off and develop. Calves from the best cows should then be marked for identification either by tattooing the ear, horn brand, or neck chain, and a record should be made of the date of birth, and the sire and dam. By following this method it is possible to check up on the value of the bull as a sire.

Losses from disease in herds graded up in this manner are less likely to occur than if replacements are purchased and brought in from other sections.

By culling out the inferior or poor producing cows, he states, on the basis of the kind of calves they produce and replacing with heifers from the good cows, it is possible to build up a herd within a few years from which the maximum returns may be obtained.

TWO RODEOS SLATED

The month of August will see two major fishing events take place in Alabama. Hundreds of anglers from all sections of this state and other states will attend. First is the 10th annual homecoming jubilee Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo, to be held in Lower Mobile Bay and Gulf waters on August 8, 9 and 10, when it is expected that over 600 registered contestants will participate. The second event is the annual Baldwin County Fishing Rodeo, scheduled August 23-24 from Burkhardt's Landing in beautiful Perdido Bay. The former contest is for salt water fishing, while the latter includes both salt and fresh water angling. In both events many valuable prizes will be awarded for record catches in several divisions, and anglers are looking forward to the fun. Both rodeo associations are non-profit groups.

Alabama's bonded debt is steadily growing less. Governor Graves states that the state now has on hand funds to retire another half million dollars worth of bonds before they become due. Bids for these bonds are now being requested.

Strip cropping is coming into recognition as an important factor in soil conservation. When the entire farm cannot be planted to cover crops, strips across the field will aid a great deal in checking erosion and keeping the good top soil from washing away.

Control of Malaria By Drainage Urged

Montgomery, Ala.—Drainage of mosquito-breeding areas was urged today by Dr. J. N. Baker, State Health Officer, as the most effective means of curbing malaria, which is said to affect more Alabamians than any other disease known to medical science.

"Drainage projects should be aimed at the destruction of the breeding places of the Anopheles quadrimaculatus, the only type of mosquito playing a part in the spread of malaria in this state," he said. "Landowners should recognize and discharge their responsibility for the health of their entire communities, as well as their own health and that of the members of their own families, by seeing to it that no ponds or other streams of such type as to become breeding places of the malaria-transmitting mosquito are allowed to remain undrained or uncontrolled on their property. Farmers who own adjoining land should work out drainage projects on a cooperative basis, each meeting his share of the expense as a contribution to the welfare of the community as a whole. Fortunately, the landowner who is willing to make such a contribution in the spirit of good citizenship often finds that his public-spiritedness has brought material rewards in the form of improvement in his land and an increase in the area of tillable soil or pasturage."

Dr. Baker called attention to provisional vital statistics reports showing that 228 malaria deaths occurred in Alabama last year, or approximately one death to every 12,500 of population.

Need For Erosion Control Discussed By Farm Engineer

Auburn, Ala.—What most Alabama farmers want to know is how they can hold their soil and the moisture that falls upon it without spending much money. That is the belief of J. B. Wilson, agricultural engineer of the Alabama Extension Service.

Most farmers have heard of the great need of soil erosion control. Estimates of thousands of tons of soil that has left Alabama farms have been made, but the farmer is interested in how he can save and build up what he has left. A farmer is usually most convinced of the destruction to his farm when he tries to fill a small gully in one of his fields by hauling dirt to fill it, or by noticing reduction in yields as a result of sheet erosion.

The old belief that it takes a lot of money to terrace a field or farm is erroneous, the specialist says. In fact, it takes very little more to terrace the field than it does to plow it once if the farmer does the work himself.

It is not necessary that the farmer do all his terracing in one year. Instead, it is recommended by the Extension Service that farmers build a few terraces the first year and add a few more each year until the entire farm is terraced.

The Agricultural Conservation Program will help pay for the terracing work, since payments are provided for terracing and other soil erosion control under the program. Mr. Wilson recommends making these terraces larger by back-furrowing each year for a period of two or three years. By this method about half the cost of the finished terrace is taken up in regular farm operations, and the first cost of building the minimum terraces is very small.

According to a recent statement of Governor Graves, Alabama now has under construction or contracts have been let for the construction of approximately 800 miles of paving. When this is completed there will remain less than 700 miles of unpaved Federal Aid highways in the state. If the state continues to match federal funds all federal aid roads in this state should be paved before the end of 1939.

In 1930 Alabama had only 2,613 teachers holding college degrees. It now has 5,723 in this classification.

KEEP PUREBRED HEIFERS AND IMPROVE THE HERD

Auburn, Ala.—The most practical method of improving the quality of the beef herd is to retain a few heifers which were sired by a good type purebred bull and out of the best "doing" cows in the herd, advises R. S. Sugg, extension animal husbandman.

By good "doers," Dr. Sugg explains, he means cows that are good mothers, good milkers, and those that make the best use of feed and pasture.

Too often producers fail to take the quality of the cow into consideration in selecting heifers for foundation stock, he says. The best guide in selecting cows is the actual performance of the cows. It is not always possible to select the best

MILK...

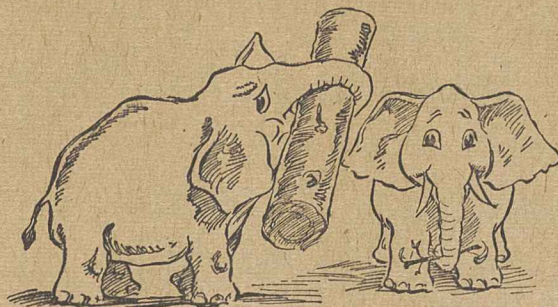

THE FAMILY DRINK

If you produce something to sell only for your own personal benefit, you would be better employed doing something else. But if you produce something that will do a specific thing and do it well, then you are helping people.

Our main purpose, our constant intention, our main ambition, is to produce a milk that will be more useful to more people. That is why there is not another town the size of Montevallo that receives daily the high quality of dairy products that are delivered by our trucks.

MONTEVALLO HIGH SCHOOL BUYS PICTURE PROJECTOR

Montevallo High School recently purchased a Victor 16 millimeter moving picture projector. The projector may be used for silent or talking pictures, a talking machine being attached.

The money for the new projector was a gift from the college. It was first used to show a film entitled "The History of Modern Pictures" and some more of life at school—from the nursery school up through senior high school.

Mr. J. T. Bagwell and his class of the regular session of Montevallo High School took these pictures. The projector will be used to show educational pictures to the high school students of Montevallo.

Many of our best farmers are finding that a green top soil covering, together with a mat of growing plant roots to bind this soil together, is a first necessity along with good terraces to protect the land from the damaging effects of erosion when the heavy rains of winter fall.

But It's True

Mr. Cartwright started working on the old New York Express in 1880 when he was twenty-six years old. In all that time he has been working for nothing but newspapers, and he has always been a reporter.

In 1899 Henry Joseph of Altoona, Pa., was charged with the theft of $24,000 from George Morris of the same town. Twenty-four years later, in 1923, his son, Robert Joseph, determined that Henry had died suddenly in Roanoke, Va., and had been buried there. After conferring with relatives of his father, he secured permission to disinter the body, and in the coat seams of the dead man he found the money, which he returned to the man from whom it had been stolen.

Third Primary In Chilton Sees Hardy Defeat McKee

Clanton, Ala., July 26—In a quiet election held here today J. R. Hardy, sheriff, defeated the incumbent, T. L. McKee, for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, by 244 votes in complete, but unofficial returns from the county's 27 boxes.

The count was: Hardy 1,333; McKee, 1,089.

The election was the third held in the county to determine the party nominee for the post. Regular primaries in May and June settled all races but this. A third primary was called by the county committee, June 26, following seizure of an absentee ballot box June 14, in which five men took possession of the votes and left. They haven't been seen since.

The 741 absentees set a new record in the county. In today's election only 124 absentee votes were cast and they were divided Hardy 72, McKee 52.

In the June 14 election, without the absentee count, Hardy led McKee 31 votes, 1,096 to 1,065. McKee later filed contest with the county committee which in turn took up the matter with the state committee. Upon consideration of evidence presented, the state committee advised another primary.

This action threw into another run-off the state senatorial post from the Fifteenth District in which, on June 14, Karl Harrison, of Columbiana, led Dr. J. A. Hines, of Siluria. The district embraces Chilton, Shelby and Autauga Counties and the new primary threw these counties into another election.

However about three weeks ago Dr. Hines withdrew, leaving the field to Harrison in the senatorial race and eliminating another election for Shelby and Autauga Counties.

Political observers here were surprised at today's vote total. Expecting a light vote, Chilton leaders were amazed to find the total higher than that of the June 14 run-off.

A total of 2,161 votes were cast in the June 14, election (less the kidnaped absentees) while today's total vote was 2,422.

Sunday In The Churches

BAPTIST

"The Great Assize" will be the pastor's theme at the Sunday morning service—a discussion of the final judgment as presented in Matthew 25:31-46. This will close a series of sermons on the parables of Jesus from the Gospel of Matthew. At 7:45 a farewell service for the Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Cox will be held at our church. The Rev. Mr. Burns, pastor of the Methodist Church, will preside and the Rev. Mr. Cox will preach.

Next Sunday is the last day of our associational year. It is very urgent, therefore, that everyone catch up with all pledges, both to the local church and to missions and benevolences. Our contributions are a little under those of last year but we can bring them up next Sunday if everyone will do his part. It is especially urgent to do this, since last Sunday was so rainy that most people did not get to church.

Last year we gave $782.14 to the Cooperative Program, while our total at present for this year is $765.96, or $16.18 under last year. While some of the special offerings have been higher this year than last, others have been lower. Last year we gave $97.00 to the Orphanage, this year only $76.36. So far we have given only $45.45 to the Hundred Thousand Club, while last year we gave nearly twice that amount. Considerably more will be turned in for the Hundred Thousand Club by Sunday, no doubt. Our total for missions and benevolences last year was $1,071.37. So far this year the total is only $973.01, leaving us $98.36 short of last year's total.

Have you done your part? Have you paid your pledge up to the present? Will you make an additional offering? Not just to reach a goal, but to be faithful in your stewardship and to glorify the Lord of Glory, will you as the Holy Spirit directs you to do?

FAREWELL SERVICE

A farewell service for Rev. and Mrs. Augustus J. Cox will be held at the Baptist Church Sunday evening at 7:45. All the churches are uniting in this service as a tribute to Rev. and Mrs. Cox who are leaving Montevallo after some years of splendid service in the community. Rev. Mr. Cox having served as pastor of the Presbyterian Church. All the people of the community are invited to attend the service.

PRESBYTERIAN

"A Terrific Fact" is to be the subject of the Rev. A. J. Cox next Sunday morning during the eleven o'clock worship service. Since the pastor will go on vacation the first of August, this is to be the final message of Mr. Cox to members of the congregation. Unless further notice is given through this paper, there will be no worship service held in this church during the month of August. Please watch this paper for future announcements.

We cordially urge you to come and participate in our worship services—at 9:45 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Soil Building Practices Explained By Agent

The 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program provides for payments to farmers in connection with carrying out soil building practices. The maximum payment which any farmer in Shelby County may earn for soil building is determined by obtaining the sum of the following items:

1. Seventy cents per acre for the total crop land less one and a half times the cotton acreage allotment (and less the peanut and other special crop acreage allotment if applicable.)

2. One dollar and fifty cents per acre on the average acreage of land on which commercial vegetables were grown in 1938 and 1937.

3. Two dollars per acre of commercial orchards on the farm January 1, 1938.

4. Twenty-five cents per acre on that portion of the fenced non-crop open pasture land which is in excess of one half of the crop land on the farm which will support grazing for one animal unit on each five acres for the grazing period.

The soil building allowances which has been determined for the farm in the foregoing manner which may be earned at the rate of $1.50 per unit of approved soil building practices.

The following practices are sound and every farmer in Shelby County should at least carry out enough to take up his soil building allowance. The following shall be counted as one unit:

1. Application of 300 pounds of phosphate or 500 pounds of basic slag on permanent pasture or winter legumes.

2. Application of 1500 pounds of ground limestone.

3. Construction of 200 feet of

EDUCATION BULLETIN COMPARES RURAL AND URBAN SCHOOL TERMS

Montgomery, Ala. — The July Bulletin of the Alabama Education Association reports that over a period of eleven years, 1927-1937 inclusive, the difference in the educational opportunity of the Alabama city child and the Alabama rural child, as measured in length of public school term, totals 428 days. This means, according to the Bulletin's figures, that during the eleven years the city child spent approximately 30 per cent more time in the school room than did the rural child.

The Bulletin contains a table which gives the length of school term in rural elementary and high schools and in city elementary and high schools for each of the eleven years.

Reference to this table shows that the term in the city high schools averaged 176 days as compared to 160 days in the rural high schools, while the term in the city elementary schools averaged 174 days as compared to 130 days in the rural elementary schools. Thus, by comparing the length of term available to the city elementary and the city high school child with the term available to the rural elementary and the rural high school child, the Bulletin shows that the rural elementary school child lost an average of forty-four days each year while the rural high school child lost sixteen days each year.

KEEP YOUR BUSINESS AT HOME

A local business man has related to us a conversation he had with an out-of-town printing salesman who was in his place soliciting business recently. The salesman very earnestly told the business man he could do his printing cheaper than anywhere in the state, that he could deliver the job almost immediately and if the merchant would just tell him the price he could get it done for locally he would guarantee to do it below this price.

This particular business man is a very good booster of our home town, as well as a good business man. He doesn't think only in terms of cents and dollars or of minutes but of years. He realized that this salesman was out to get the business from our town regardless of the tactics he had to use to get it. Of course he didn't get the job. This loyal citizen appreciates the business this newspaper and its employees give him and other local concerns. He knows it amounts in dollars and cents to a great deal more than any cheap, cut-rate printing he could ever get from any out of town firm who desires to do business on a cut-throat basis.

He also realizes the fact that this newspaper is making an earnest effort to promote the best interest of the community of Montevallo and its people and will go to any reasonable extreme to accomplish things for them. He knows that we are here to stand behind our work, that we are not here today and gone tomorrow.

He knows that when he pays for cheap printing he gets cheap printing and nothing else.

He knows this newspaper and its employees are sharing the load with him and with other businesses in the community in paying the taxes to keep the city running, support the schools, etc.

For these reasons he never buys his printing out of town.

We are not only stating these facts for our own good but they apply to every business in this town. None of them can prosper unless they get their share of the local business.

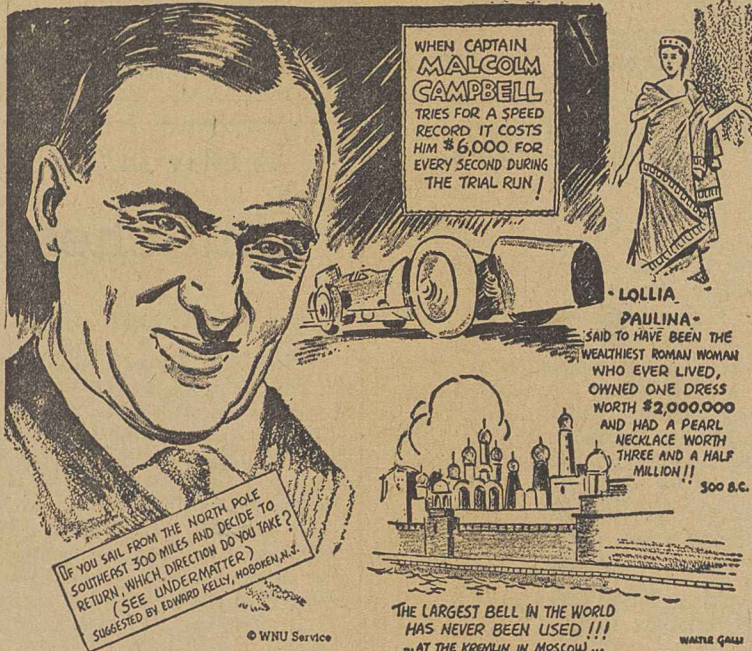

Thus, the business that patronizes out of town concerns is harming everyone and every business in town, including especially itself. If you are guilty of sending your work out of Montevallo, the next time you have printing or any other kind of work that the local businesses could handle, stop for a minute and think, "Are you going to cut your nose off to spite your face?"

Economic Highlights

When representatives of 32 nations recently met in France to discuss the refugee problem and attempt to arrive at some sort of solution, it didn't make headline news. But to the thoughtful observer, the conference served to emphasize the fact that this is one of the most tragic and difficult social problems of the modern age.

Never in modern history has the plight of racial minorities, principally the Jews, been so bitter. The pogroms of ancient times almost pale into insignificance beside those of today. Germany, of course, is the seat of the Jewish oppression. It is apparently Hitler's desire to completely eliminate Hebrew influence of any kind in Teutonic territory. In Germany, and also in Austria since the Anschluss, Jews have been forbidden to engage in most fields of profitable occupation. Even when they are not driven out of business, their stores are placarded, and the German who trades with them comes at once into conflict with the dread Nazi secret police. Jewish professional men — doctors, lawyers, writers,

But It's True ----- !

Sir Malcolm spent about $150,000 preparing for his last try at the record. It took him about 28 seconds to complete each of the two measured miles which established the new standard.

To get back to the North pole you would travel north, regardless of where you started.

The bell at the Kremlin was found to have a defect in construction before it was used. It has never been made to ring.

teachers—are boycotted. In German schools, the instructors tell their pupils to have nothing whatever to do with Jews, either socially or as a matter of business. Persons with as little as one-eighth Jewish blood are classified officially as Semites, and are consequently ostracized. In brief, the Jew, under Hitler's dream of a race of Nordic supermen, is regarded as an enemy of the state.

Matters would not be so bad were the Jews allowed to leave Germany and Austria with what resources they possess, to seek a place in other lands. But the Jew who is given a German passport is necessarily a bankrupt. His money, his property, even his personal effects, are taken from him. He must leave his home and his occupation with no resources with which to make a fresh start. And, according to late reports, the German government is going even farther in the case of rich Jews, and is virtually holding them for ransom. For example, it is said that the release of Louis Rothschild, head of the Vienna branch of the great European banking house, can only be obtained when and if his foreign friends and relatives give $10,000,000 to the Reich.

A biting commentary on the question is found in the fact that Myron C. Taylor, American delegate and chairman of the the 32-nation conference, recently pleaded with Germany to permit refugees to take their personal belongings away with them—and received no answer.

Some time ago it seemed that the problem might be solved by the action of England in opening Palestine to Jewish colonization, and setting it aside as a land where the Jews might create a nation of their own. Today that hope is largely gone. The Jews came to Palestine. They liked. They proved to be excellent settlers and capable businessmen. But the Arabs, whose religion is strongly anti-Semitic, immediately began to fight the migration. Hundreds have been killed in guerilla warfare. Arabian sentiment against the Jews has steadily increased, and it is said that there is grave danger that the cause may develop into a holy war. England now has 12,000 troops in Palestine to defend the Jews—and still the rapine, slaughter and pillage continues. The result is that only 12,000 Jews a year are to be admitted to the country—a drop in a gigantic bucket. There are about 1,000,000 Jews remaining in Germany and Austria alone.

The 32-power conference took all this into account. Its attitude was extremely pathetic toward this oppressed people. But talk was about all that resulted. No major country is willing to open its gates wide to the Jew, or to any other refugee. In the case of famous men, there is usually a place—many educators, for instance, have left Germany for England and this country, and obtained suitable occupation. For the rank and file of Jews there seems to be nowhere to go. All the big powers are occupied with unemployment problems. There is not enough work for their own people, and not enough money to go around. Thus, they pity the Jew, they realize the injustice that has been meted out to him—and they regretfully say, no, when he asks permission to enter.

As Oswald Garrison Villard has written, "The man who could show the way out would deserve the greatest rewards bestowed ever upon anybody." That man has not appeared.

Replacing poor cotton and peanut land with hogs, cows and chickens means more money and more work. If a farmer expects more money and less work he should stay out of the livestock business, says J. P. Wilson, superintendent of the Wiregrass Experiment Station at Headland.

Mix 100 pounds of charcoal, 100 pounds lime, and 100 pounds salt and give this mixture to hogs every two days for best results, livestock specialists advise.

PROPER CARE OF LAWN IMPORTANT

Auburn, Ala. — Although the home owner can do nothing but "fuss" about the hot weather that damages lawns at this season each year, there are several practices which, if carried out, can help grass to withstand adverse weather conditions.

In pointing out that fertilizing mowing, watering, and wetting the lawn will help maintain a carpet of green over the lawn area, Homer S. Fisher, extension landscape specialist, advises that these practices must be carried out with consideration of their effect on the grass.

Grass should be cut regularly and not too low. It should not be allowed to grow higher than about three inches at any time. The clippings should be left on the lawn if the grass is cut regularly, as the clipped grass will settle down on the lawn and help hold moisture to the roots, says Mr. Fisher.

Watering, though not essential, will add materially in keeping the lawn in good condition during dry months. However, if improperly done, watering will prove harmful. When watered, the lawn should be soaked. A sprinkler of some type is preferable for watering.

Proper fertilizing, mowing and watering will materially aid in developing a good sod which will tend to smother out weeds and undesirable grasses, thereby eliminating much of the weeding, he states.

Melvyn Douglas and Luise Rainer in "The Toy Wife"

Louise Rainer As New Orleans Belle In Play "Toy Wife"

Old New Orleans in its picturesque period after the acquisition of Louisiana from France by the United States forms the background for Luise Rainer's most colorful role in "The Toy Wife," which comes to the Strand Theatre Thursday and Friday.

The Anna Held of "The Great Ziegfeld," the Chinese peasant woman of "The Good Earth," and the Rumanian immigrant girl of "Big City," Miss Rainer now turns to the plantation life of the old South as "Froufrou" Brigard, shallow and frivolous daughter of the French aristocracy.

Two leading men, Melvyn Douglas and Robert Young, appear opposite her, Douglas returning to the type of role which he played as John Randolph in Joan Crawford's "The Gorgeous Hussy." He is seen as George Sartoris, attorney and rising politician who becomes "Froufrou's" husband.

From the role of the young political idealist in "Three Comrades," Young turns to the opposite extreme as Andre Vallaire, roistering young scapegrace who falls in love with "Froufrou" and finally persuades her to leave her husband and run away with him to New York.

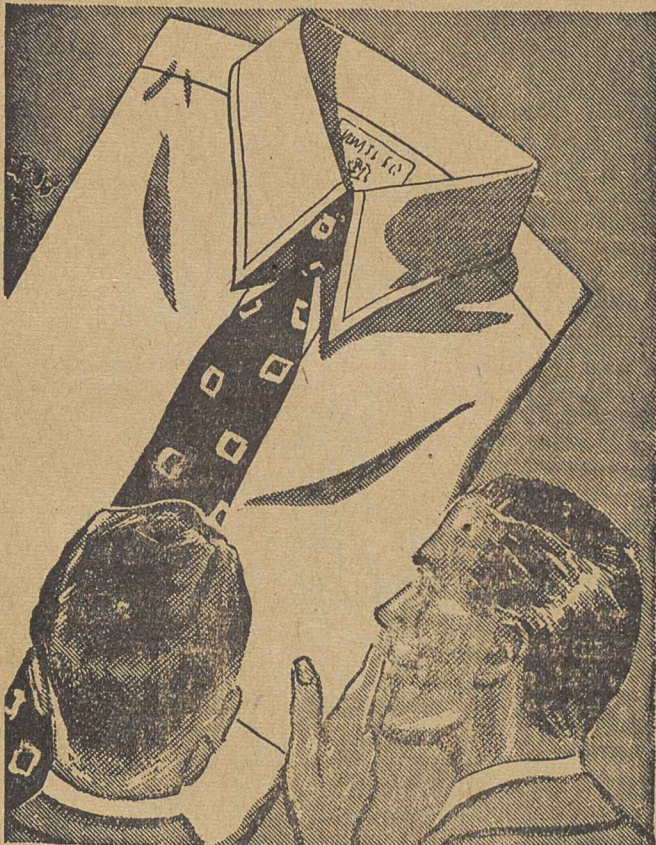

Barbara O'Neil, well known Broadway actress, heads the supporting cast as Miss Rainer's older sister who becomes involved in the triangular romance. H. B. Warner (Continued on Back Page)

Which Course Shall I Take?

(Editor's Note—Dr. Minnie L. Steckel, Student Counselor of Ala-bama College, has prepared a bulle-tin, "Looking Forward to College Graduation," and has mailed the same to all registered students of the College. At her request, the bulletin is reproduced in The Times, in the hope that it will be of inter-est and value to local students who will attend Alabama College next session.)

You will soon leave for Alabama College to begin your college edu-cation. Have you decided on the course of study which you will un-derstand? If you have not, here are a few facts which may help you in making your decision by weighing it against other course offerings.

Liberal Arts or Liberal Science Course

If it will not be necessary for you to work immediately after gradua-tion, the Liberal Arts or Liberal Science courses are recommended. If you are uncertain regarding your course and wish to attend college before deciding, it is advisable that you enroll for one of these general college courses. For all courses ex-cept home economics, music and secretarial science you need not de-cide your major until the close of your sophomore year.

Teaching

The large majority of Alabama College students pursue some course of study which leads to teaching. Many of the courses may be so planned that they prepare for two fields of work, one of which is teaching. For a woman teaching still gives a better opportunity for employment than most other fields. There are, however, many disad-vantages in teaching. It is an over-crowed profession; salaries are low and recently uncertain; and the work is for only part of the year, sometimes as little as six months and rarely more than nine months. Elementary school work at present offers the best advantages to a four-year graduate. High school teachers of history and English are most numerous and women's ap-portunities for securing positions in these fields are not so good. Women teachers of science and mathemat-ics have especially strong competi-tion from men for these positions and thus are placed at a disad-vantage. On the other hand, women trained in home economics or phys-ical education have no competition from men. Art is not generally taught in Alabama public schools so that a person wishing to teach art would probably need to go out of the state of Alabama for em-ployment.

A four-year secretarial course prepares one for teaching as for a position in an office. Women in this field have very little competi-tion from men. The teaching field in secretarial work is not crowded and good teachers are in demand.

Teacher training may be combin-ed with Social Service and thus give a double opportunity for work. Courses Leading to Other Occupa-tions

Courses other than those leading to teaching in the home economics field are institutional economics and retailing. The institutional ec-onomics course prepares for a dietitian, employed usually by in-stitutions where large numbers of people are fed or as special hospi-tal dietitian. Usually the student majoring in hospital dietetics is required to serve as student dieti-tian in a hospital for one year after graduation, much as an in-terne does before securing per-manent employment. Retailing pre-pares the individual to hold an advanced positios in a department store. Courses in clothing and art are the bases of the courses and the student has nine weeks practice work her senior year in a large department store.

Students majoring in music pre-pare to rsolo performance or teach-ing. Students who wish to earn with their musical training go into pri-vate teaching or public school music. This course is more expen-sive because of special music fees. Teachers of music generally do not receive more pay but do prob-ably have more pleasure from their training in a recreational and social way.

Students interested in becoming librarians should complete a regu-lar liberal arts curriculum and plan to spend an additional year in a professional library school.

Training in special speech work leads to teaching of speech and dramatics and "auditorium work" or teaching of speech correction work. It also gives a foundation for radio work or acting.

A major in science prepares for the work of laboratory technician in a physician's or health office or gives foundation work for fur-ther study for a medical degree.

The course in social service pre-pares the student for school atten-dance work, county welfare work, or other special types of social ser-vice. At present there is not so great a demand for workers in this field. There is some indication that a master's degree soon will be the requirement for the better posi-tions.

A major in art gives basic train-ing for professional, commercial, and industrial art. Success in the work depends upon the initiative and ability of the individual stu-dent. Usually training beyond the college course is necessary.

30,000 ALABAMA FAMILIES KEEP CANNING BUDGET

Auburn, Ala. — Canning budgets are receiving a final checking in the homes of approximately 30,000 Alabama home demonstration club women to be certain that everything needed is included in the canning program, says Lavada Curtis, specialist in food preservation.

"When you sit down to plan a canning budget for the family, you should take into consideration the likes and dislikes of your family, and the correct proportions of foods needed during the winter," Miss Curtis advises club women.

Carrots are very valuable in their vitamin A content and are as valuable as fresh, says Miss Curtis. Families susceptible to colds and similar infections should provide an extra amount of this food for the winter months. Green beans, okra, asparagus, and green peas are next in order as to vitamin content. Beets have some vitamin G and are rich in calcium, phosphorus, and iron. If pickled, however, the mineral content is largely dissolved in the vinegar and food value is lost.

Lima beans, both dried and fresh, are valuable for their vitamin B and vitamin G content, although 25 to 30 per cent of their vitamin content is lost in cooking.

A copy of the Alabama Canning Budget booklet can be obtained from the county home demonstration agent or by writing the Alabama Extension Service, Auburn, Ala.

UNUSUAL INTEREST IN TON-LITTER CONTESTS

Auburn, Ala.—Unusual interest is being shown in the "ton litter" contest which has 613 hogs in 65 litters in 15 counties being fed out this year, states F. W. Burns, extension animal husbandman. Owners of the 65 litters will exhibit their hogs at the Union Stockyards, Montgomery, September 15 and 16. The ton-litter contest is designed to show that surplus corn can be marketed successfully by feeding it to hogs.

A study of the records of the demonstrators at the Montgomery show last year show that the average age of all hogs was 186 days, average weight 223 pounds, average feed cost was $6.60 per hundred, and they sold for $11.55, or a margin of 95 cents per hundred above feed costs.

ALABAMA NEEDS MORE AND BETTER PASTURES

Auburn, Ala.—The average Alabama county with 4,000 farm families and approximately $60,000 available as soil-building allowance cannot use the funds more wisely than to devote a liberal amount in establishing and improving Alabama pastures in order to properly supplement crops with livestock,

Margaret Sullavan and James Stewart in "The Shopworn Angel"

Margaret Sullavan and James Stewart are seen together for the first time in "The Shopworn Angel," story of the three-sided romance of a Broadway showgirl and an American doughboy and a wealthy playboy. The new picture will be shown at the Strand Sunday and Monday.

"Shopworn Angel" Brings New Team To Romantic Roles

Sullavan and Stewart Teamed For
First Time in World War Epic

"The Shopworn Angel," which comes to the Strand Theatre Sunday and Monday, has a background which shows the first draft of World War soldiers as they marched away in 1917.

While the new film has a war theme it does not go into the battle scenes but attacks the problem from the inside, showing the loves of three people in various walks of life.

Margaret Sullavan does her finest emotional acting as the girl with a hard-boiled past who married a naive soldier boy on the eve of his departure for France.

James Stewart is seen as the bewildered young Westerner who falls in love with the gold-digging showgirl, unaware that she has an admirer in the person of Walter Pidgeon, rich man-about-town. Both actors play their roles expertly, adding ingratiating comedy to a drama of realism.

Nat Pendleton, Alan Curtis and Sam Levene present a revealing picture of three soldiers, nameless so as to depict the average American who fought in the last war. Others in uniformly good performances are Hattie McDaniel, Eleanor Lynn and Charlie D. Brown.

Musical numbers are pleasing and authentic of the 1917 period. Director H. C. Porter kept the picture moving at a fine tempo.

foregoing to take effect Oct. 1, 1938.

The conservation board also set up a policy for distributing quail raised at the state-owned game farm in Autauga County, which will be announced later.

The law authorizes the conservation board of seven members to meet twice yearly with the commissioner and assist him in drawing up regulations, open seasons, and bag limits, and approving same. Present were five members, namely, J. G. Stanley, Greenville; Judge Coma Garrett, Jr., Grove Hill; Judge B. L. Malone, Decatur; Albert Gill, Mobile; H. L. Reeder, Florence; and Chairman I. T. Quinn. Dr. J. P. McQueen, of Birmingham, and S. L. Toomer, of Auburn, were unable to attend.

Land for cotton production in Egypt, India and China is prepared by plowing with primitive implements. The crop is planted by hand, and the general practice is to cultivate the crop entirely by the use of the hand hoe. Certain uses of power machinery in Russia have developed in the last few years but the cotton production there still requires more human labor than it does in the United States, according to P. K. Norris, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Washington, D. C., who will speak at the Farmers and Homemakers Week at Auburn, August 5.

Southern villagers spend more for clothing than northern villagers. This fact was revealed in a recent survey made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A survey of families living in 33 villages in Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina showed that 2,083 husbands spent an average of $56.00 each a year for clothing while their wives spent an average of $57.00. A similar survey made in Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin showed that 2,877 husbands spent an average of $38.00 a year for clothes while their wives spent $42.00 a year.

High producing dairy herd in Alabama during June was the purebred Jersey herd of Louis Usry, Attalla. The herd, fed a grain mixture of 100 pounds crushed corn, 100 pounds cottonseed meal, and 200 pounds of 17 per cent commercial dairy feed, averaged 771 pounds of milk and 38.1 pounds of butterfat. A good pasture furnished all the roughage used. The herd produced milk during the month at a feed cost of 58 cents per 100 pounds of milk.

Mrs. R. A. Reid, Mrs. M. P. Jeter and Mrs. Pep Jeter spent Friday in Birmingham.

MILK...

THE FAMILY DRINK

If you produce something to sell only for your own personal benefit, you would be better employed doing something else. But if you produce something that will do a specific thing and do it well, then you are helping people.

Our main purpose, our constant intention, our main ambition, is to produce a milk that will be more useful to more people. That is why there is not another town the size of Montevallo that receives daily the high quality of dairy products that are delivered by our trucks.

MAYWOOD DAIRY

believes P. O. Davis, director of the Alabama Extension Service.

"The most reliable figures indicate that Alabama has 8,356,000 acres of cropland and 1,363,000 acres of open pasture land, or one acre of open pasture land to six acres of cropland," he states. "The United States average is one acre of pasture lands to four of croplands."

One acre of good pasture in Alabama will support one head of cattle or other like animal units per acre while indications are that pastures in their present condition will only support one animal unit to every three acres of pasture, the director said, adding that this is due to poor seeding, lack of phosphate and lime, failure to control weeds, bushes and other pasture pests, and general lack of attention to pasture care and improvement.

Alabama farmers are paying more attention to livestock on the farm than ever before but pastures are the first requirements for any profitable livestock business, whether for commercial or home production needs, he states.

He advises farmers to contact their county agents regarding the important provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program which makes it possible to do profitable and effective work toward solving the problem of balancing cropland with pastures and crops with livestock.

MORE FALL GARDENS NEEDED IN ALABAMA

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama farmers produce less than half the vegetables needed for home consumption, according to W. A. Ruffin, horticultural specialist of the Alabama Extension Service, who urges that more and larger vegetable gardens be planted during late summer and early fall.

Mr. Ruffin says the under-production of vegetables is due largely to the fact that few succeed with late summer and fall plantings. Some years hot weather and insufficient soil moisture may cause the best gardeners to fail, but those who prepare the soil well by turning under compost and leaving the soil fallow for two to four weeks before

Open Season and Bag Limits are Set

Open seasons, bag limits and regulations governing the taking of game birds and animals in Alabama for the 1938-39 season were adopted by the State Conservation Board, meeting with Commissioner I. T. Quinn, July 21, at the Jefferson Davis Hotel in Montgomery. Practically all of last season's regulations were adopted with some exceptions, including changes in open seasons on migratory waterfowl.

The board voted to conform to Federal regulations governing migratory waterfowl for Alabama as follows:

1. Increased open season on wild ducks, geese, brant, snipe, and coot from 30 to 45 days, making the open season from Nov. 15 to Dec. 29, and fixing possession of two day's bag limit of 10 ducks a day legal instead of one day's limit as formerly. Shooting of canvasback, ruddy, redhead and buffhead ducks will be permitted, and a hunter may take three of one species or three in the aggregate a day. These ducks have been fully protected for the past two years.

2. The first half of the open season on doves in North Alabama was moved up 15 days. The dove season is as follows: Pickens, Tuscaloosa, Jefferson, Shelby, Talladega, Clay, Randolph, and all other counties north, Sept. 1 to Sept. 30 inclusive, and Dec. 20 to Jan. 31. In all other counties south of above named counties, Nov. 20 to Jan. 31. Bag limit 15 doves a day.

3. Declared a closed season on woodcock.

Regulations affecting other phases of wildlife protection passed by the board are as follows:

1. State-wide closed season declared on muskrat and beaver to allow these valuable fur-bearers to increase.

2. Deer season in Butler County closed for two years.

3. Closed season on trapping fur-bearers in Lauderdale County.

4. The board approved a regulation prohibiting the sale of all game fish in the State of Alabama, regardless of where the fish were taken.

5. A regulation to clarify further the taking of game birds and animals by baiting was approved.

6. A closed season for two years was declared on alligators because of the scarcity of this saurian.

7. Increase in legal size and reduction of creel limits for the white lake bass, introduced in the Tennessee River in 1926 by the State Conservation Department, was ordered. This fish was placed on the game fish list in 1937 by the board, which fixed a length of 8 inches and daily creel limit of 20 fish. The board this year made the length 10 inches from tip of nose to fork of tail, and made the creel limit 15 a day, the planting have little trouble producing good gardens in the fall, he states.

Calera Advances As A Progressive Trade Center

Community Spirit Is Manifest In United Expansion Program

The up - and - hustling business firms of Calera are enterprising and are taking steps forward toward building that town and making better business for themselves.

In order to do this, they are following the safe course that lies in attracting to the town the favor and patronage of people who live in the adjacent trade territory.

This week these hustling business firms of Calera are running a page advertisement in The Times, with this message to the people of West Shelby and North Chilton:

"Calera merchants appreciate your patronage. We take this method of expressing our appreciation for the patronage and support accorded us in the past

"MY SKIN WAS FULL OF PIMPLES AND BLEMISHES FROM CONSTIPATION," says Verna Schlepp: "Since using Adlerika the pimples are gone. My skin is smooth and glows with health." Adlerika washes BOTH bowels, and relieves constipation that so often aggravates a bad complexion. Montevallo Drug Co.

by the citizens of West Shelby and North Chilton Counties. We earnestly solicit a continuation of your patronage on the merits of our service to you and our community to the end that we may all prosper together."

Calera is the chief "port" of Shelby County on the Birmingham-Montgomery Highway. There the east and west highway through the county crosses the Birmingham-Montgomery Highway. Furthermore, Calera is the railroad center of Shelby County. The main line of the L. & N., crossed at Calera by the Southern, and joined by the Alabama Mineral lines, gives the town a distinct advantage in railroad connections and railroad service.

All of these facts stand in favor of Calera to become a most important business and commercial center.

In addition to its natural situation, its transportation facilities are augmented by the industry of its citizens and their determination to make Calera the trading center of a large territory of surrounding country, constituted of farms, mines, mills, and numerous small industries.

In the advertisement, which appears elsewhere in this paper, the following Calera business firms are represented in their appeal to the people of their territory to "Make Calera Your Shopping Center:"

J. E. Armstrong, representative of Standard Oil Company.
Highway Cafe, Mary Talley, proprietor.
Bailey Barber and Beauty Shop.
A. C. Arant's new grocery store.
Bowdon Service Station.
Peoples Drug Store.
Calera Cafe, Evelyn Roberts, proprietor.
Blankenship Service Station.
Crawford's Service Station.
Wade Hotel and Wadesonian Theatre.

The recently organized Civitan Club of Calera, together with the Ladies Auxiliary of the same, has brought the people of the town into a united movement for progress that will produce much good in years to come. Through Civitan Calera will gain contacts with like clubs in many other places, thereby making the town known far and wide for its progressive efforts.

Clarence Muse as Brutus leads a large group of colored players in supporting roles, among them Libby Taylor, Theresa Harris and Clinton Rosemond.

A story of the French aristocracy of Louisiana in the 1850's, "The Toy Wife" stresses authenticity in all its backgrounds, every set having been copied from some historical original. Dalton S. Reymond, former faculty member of Louisiana State University and founder of its opera department, served as technical director. Exterior sequences were filmed on location at Sherwood Forest, "doubling" for New Orleans famous old dueling ground, "The Oaks."

Southern music of the period is woven throughout the story, and a Negro spiritual, "Judgment Day," written by Edward Ward with words by Bob Wright and Chet Forrest, is heard in the opening sequence.
